THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XXI. ATLANTA, GA., THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 10, 1890.—TEN PAGES. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

BUCK IS A LIAR

IF HE INTIMATES THAT HE HAD A DEAL WITH THE CONSTITUTION.

MR. GRADY, THOUGH DEAD, SPEAKS,

And Major McKinley Stamps the Statement as Untrue that His Visit to the Georgia Chautauqua Was a Political Mission.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—[Special.]—I had a talk with Major McKinley about Carpetbagger Buck's letter tonight.

Major McKinley was as much surprised at its contents, as they related to THE CONSTITUTION making a deal with Buck to build up the protection idea in Georgia, as even Mr. Grady would be, were he alive.

THE LIE DULY STAMPED.

"No, I never once heard such an idea suggested," said Major McKinley. "An invitation was tendered me by Senator Brown from the Piedmont Chautauqua directors to make an address upon the tariff, from an economic point of view, to the association. It was stated at the time that the Chautauqua was purely a literary association. As to any political trade of any kind whatsoever, this is the first I have ever heard of it.

"I will say, however, that I did receive two or three letters from Colonel Buck, urging me to come to Atlanta, and he and Governor Bullock accompanied me there in Governor Brown's car. You remember there was considerable discussion about my going to Atlanta. During that Colonel Buck wrote me.

THERE WAS NO POLITICS IN IT.

"But there was no politics in my visit, and there was no political deal with THE CONSTITUTION that I ever heard of. Indeed, I never heard of THE CONSTITUTION having anything to do with the invitation to me, save that Mr. Grady, as an officer of the Chautauqua, signed the invitation to me."

Thus the dirty carpet-bagger has the wind knocked out of his sails again.

BUCK'S ANXIETY FOR A DEAL.

When Buck came here, just after the presidential election, and when it seemed that General Longstreet would secure control of the Georgia patronage, he tried to obtain the support of THE CONSTITUTION from this end of the line.

THE FALSEHOOD HE TOLD.

When every other argument failed, probably two weeks after he commenced work here, he came to my office one night and used the argument that he and Mr. Grady were bosom friends, and that Mr. Grady wanted to give him THE CONSTITUTION'S support.

GRADY REPUDIATES HIM!

I immediately wired to Mr. Grady. He replied that it was a PURE FABRICATION!

Mr. Grady then instructed me simply to give the news—that he didn't care anything about who secured control of the Georgia offices.

AND THUS BUCK IS BRANDED!

There are witnesses here to this, and if Buck should assert that Mr. Grady made any such deal with him, it can be proven here that he is simply a liar!

THE AUGUSTA POSTOFFICE.

The Augusta postoffice matter is in very much of a muddle. J. T. Dunning, Buck's man, who has been here a week, hustling for the appointment, is going home tomorrow. He says he is very hopeful, but followed that statement by saying that Major Boyce, the present postmaster, "has some mighty strong friends here." He is also of the opinion that Boyce will hold on awhile yet, and that if he, Dunning, don't get the appointment, Boyce will. The administration wants a republican, but they don't see exactly how they can turn down the many influental republicans who are urging Major Boyce's claims. There is a good chance for Major Boyce, although the affair is very much muddled just now.

MONTANA CASES.

The democratic senators have decided in conference to prolong the debate on the Montana contested election cases until the public can become thoroughly familiar with the facts relating to this proposed steal. The republicans are very anxious to close the debate as soon as possible, in order that it may not attract universal attention, but the democrats have agreed to forestall them, and the Montana contests promises to be a case of sweetness long drawn out. Every democratic senator is expected to contribute an argument, and the matter will be thoroughly ventilated before a vote is taken. By the rules of the senate debate is unlimited, and can only be closed by unanimous consent. Should republican senators conclude after while, that the democrats contemplate blocking action on these cases, and proceeded with appropriation bills, it is probable that congress will adjourn without the senate having taken a final vote. In that event the governor of Montana would appoint senators to serve until the next legislature convenes.

THE DUEL IS OFF.

The prospects of a duel between Congressman Phelan and Editor Fleming, of Knoxville, are off. Mr. Phelan's friends say Fleming will not accept a challenge, and Phelan can do nothing more under the circumstances.

E. W. B.

POINTS FROM PUGH.

The Alabama Senator Speaks on the Montana Contested Election Case.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—In the senate, Mr. Wilson of Iowa, offered a resolution which was agreed to instructing the committee on interstate commerce to inquire what additional legislation is necessary in respect to commutation and excursion tickets so as to prevent the abuses now existing in regard to individuals and localities.

The house bill appropriating $75,000 to supply the deficiency occasioned by the defalcation in the office of the late sergeant-at-arms of the house, was reported from the committee on appropriations without amendment, and passed, with the remark by Mr. Hale that it was the almost invariable rule to leave to the house itself all subject matters that pertained to organization, its force, and the economy of its business, and that the same was true reciprocally in regard to the senate.

THE MONTANA CASE.

The senate then, at 12:45, resumed consideration of the Montana contested election case, and Mr. Pugh continued his argument in favor of the democratic claimants—Clark and Magimis.

His argument was directed, for the most part, to points that the county canvassers of Silver Bow county had no right to do anything but to furnish an abstract of votes actually cast; that they had no right to go into the question of legality of votes; that votes cast at precinct No. 34 were legal; that if they had been counted, the five delegates from Silver Bow county would have been democrats, and that, therefore, the two democratic claimants—Clark and Maginnis—would have been elected to the senate.

Mr. Turpie, also a member of the committee on privileges and elections, presented an argument on the same side of the question. He argued that as under the enabling act, the territory of Montana was authorized to hold an election for delegates, under its own laws and rules, and, as these laws recognized the right of aliens who had taken out their first papers to vote, the state was estopped from claiming that, under an existing act of congress, no such right existed. To set up such a claim as was done by the majority of the committee, was to commit an act of bad faith against the people of Montana and to set a trap for them.

DUTIES OF ELECTION OFFICERS.

He also argued that in no sense were county canvassers, or territorial canvassers, judges of elections. They were mere scriveners, clerks, bookkeepers. Judges at polls were the only officials who had the right to receive or reject votes. He spoke of the principle laid down by the majority of the committee as a "dogma of the electoral estoppal," and said that of all dogmas ever laid down by any tribunal—lay or clerical—it was the least entitled to credence or regard. That dogma, briefly stated, was a falsehood put in writing on paper. It is not only deemed to be the truth; but it prevents and forbids the truth to be otherwise. He asked whether an abridgment of a lie was to have more force than the whole edition, and characterized the rejection of the votes of precinct 34 as an act of "strangling" on the part of the "three thugs of the returning board." And further on he spoke of the canvassing board as a "triple coil of adders" composed of "a chief justice from Vernlem, a secretary from Sodom, and a governor from Gomorrah," and he wound up with a scathing denunciation of all concerned.

At the close of Mr. Turpie's speech, it was stated on the democratic side that several senators on that side desired to speak, but were not prepared to do so today, while, on the republican side, it was said that further argument was to be made by Messrs. Teller and Evarts.

Mr. Morgan said that as the senate was acting in a judicial capacity, it was entitled to hear all members of the committee on the present law and facts, and then to have the matter open to discussion. It was not fair to have the ablest member of that committee (Mr. Evarts) reserved to play advocate. If the question were decided on mere partisan grounds, the people would learn to treat the senate with contempt, and when it did so the people would have marched more than half the journey toward the destruction of the republic. He, therefore, would not take the floor on the matter until the senate had heard from all members of the committee who expected to speak.

MR. EVARTS TO SPEAK.

Mr. Evarts said that he was not aware that he occupied a position in the case that ought to attract attention, It was only an ordinary arrangement of business that a committee making a report should have the right to close the debate. In the course of discussion as to the time for coming to a vote, it was stated by Mr. Morgan that the democratic senators, while not prepared to fix any limit to debate, were ready to vote upon the question without further debate. On a question of this sort, he said, the senate ought to act as it would on a question of impeachment, in which no senator would dare to leave his seat without a better excuse than a lunch table or private business in a committee room. The offer to have the vote taken without further debate, was accepted on the republican side; but that arrangement was defeated by Mr. Call taking the floor and stating his desire to address the senate tomorrow.

A motion to proceed to executive business was then made and rejected—yeas 23, nays 35.

ABOUT OUR NAVY.

Mr. Wilkinson Says China Has Two Ships Which Could Sink Our Whole Navy.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Senate amendments were concurred in to the house vote to admit free of duty articles intended for the St. Louis exposition, in 1890, which may be imported from the republic of Mexico and other American republics and the Dominion of Canada.

The speaker having laid before the house the senate bill for the improvement and maintenance of a national zoological park, with house amendments providing that the district of Columbia shall pay half the expense, with the request from the senate for a conference, Mr. McComas, of Maryland, moved that the house recede from its amendment.

Upon this motion a long debate arose, at the end of which Mr. McComas's motion to recede was defeated, 18 to 109.

The house insisted on its amendment and a conference was ordered. The house then went into a committee of the whole on the naval appropriation bill.

In speaking to a verbal amendment Mr. Wilkins, of Louisiana, said that he would not emulate Great Britain in the building of ships, but the empire of China had better fighting armament today than had the United States. It had two battle ships which could, with ease, sink any ship that we had afloat. The government had been taking extreme measures with China, when the United States told China not only that none of her subjects should come here, but that those who were here should be subjected to an enumeration not imposed on any other people. It was a part of proper precaution to build ships which could cope with those of the nation upon which contumely had been cast. He advocated the establishment of a navy yard at Algiers, La., and pointed out the necessity of having a yard on the gulf.

Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, said that no one desired the necessity of establishing a yard on the gulf and the matter of a navy yard at New Orleans had been pressed unremittingly by members from Louisiana, but the house would remember that there was already a navy yard on the gulf—it was at Pensacola. It was closed now, but there was much government property there, and its representatives were urging that it be opened and put in proper condition. South Carolina people wanted the erection of a dry dock at Port Royal. That also was under consideration by the committee. These schemes involved a large expenditure of money and could not be entered into without the fullest and most careful consideration. Then Elliot, of South Carolina, pictured the advantage presented by Port Royal as a naval station, and advocated the construction of a Simpson dry-dock.

Mr. Adams, of Illinois, said that the people he represented were very anxious for a navy yard at the mouth of the Mississippi river.

Mr. Coleman, of Louisiana, said that in the committee on naval affairs he had presented the claims of New Orleans for a navy yard in season and out of season; and when the matter came regularly before the house, he would be ready to show why New Orleans should be selected.

Mr. Davidson, of Florida, said that when that time came he would present the claims of Pensacola and show why the navy yard should be opened.

Pending final action, the committee rose.

The house, at 5 o'clock, adjourned.

A republican caucus was called to meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. to consider the order of business of the house.

Discharging the Conductors

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 9.—[Special.]—Eight Queen and Crescent conductors have been discharged within the past few days, the notices simply stating that their reports are not satisfactory. Among the discharged are Sam Bennett and Newton Hammond, two of the oldest conductors of the Queen and Crescent system. Rumors are rife that the entire force of conductors on the road will be asked to resign, as the "spotters" and two of the Pinkerton detective agency have been doing some secret work, which is now beginning to manifest itself.

ELOPED WITH A NEGRO.

THE DAUGHTER OF A HOTEL KEEPER AT CRESTLINE, OHIO,

SKIPS WITH ONE OF THE WAITERS.

She Was a Leader in Society and Highly Accomplished—Her Parents Distracted.

COLUMBUS, O., April 9.—A special to the Dispatch from Crestline, O., says: Miss Campbell the only daughter of Steward O. H. Campbell, of the Continental hotel, left home last week, and was supposed to have gone to Berea to visit friends. The day after her departure one of the hotel waiters, a colored man, was also missing, and it is known that they both went to Cleveland and were married.

Miss Campbell was a leader of society in Crestline. She possessed an excellent disposition and was a particular favorite. Her parents are well nigh crazed with grief. Of the negro little is known, as he had been in the employ of the hotel people only eight or nine months. It is stated that Mr. Campbell has received a letter from his daughter, stating that they were married, and would reside in Cleveland.

THEY ARE HAPPY NOW.

A Chinaman and His White Bride in Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Charlie Lee and his bride have settled down to the peaceful enjoyment of their peculiar honeymoon. The Chinaman's mother-in-law proved not half so unrelenting as it was thought she would. When the case was called in Justice Patterson's office, she was on hand. So was Charlie with his Ida. The judge told the mother that their marriage stopped the prosecution in one direction, anyway, and then she informed him that she guessed she would let them alone. The girl bride remarked that her mother or nobody else could separate her and "my Charlie," and after both had been advised to behave themselves the case was declared off, and the parties to it went off arm in arm.

COLORED SOCIETY STIRRED

Over the Marriage of a Well Known Couple of Africans.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 9.—The colored society of Beaufort, the black county of the palmetto state, was much excited tonight by an exceedingly aristocratic wedding.

The contracting parties were ex-Congressman Robert Smalls, who distinguished himself during the war by running the blockade at Charleston with the steamer Planter, and Miss Annie Wigg, a dusky belle of the city of Savannah.

The wedding ceremonies were conducted in the African Methodist Episcopal church at Beaufort, in the presence of a large congregation of whites and blacks. The bride was elegantly attired in white surrah silk, with valenciennes lace. After the services at the church the happy couple entertained their guests at a fete champetre at the residence of the groom. A feature of the wedding was the large attendance of whites.

SHELLENBERGER HAS SKIPPED.

A Well-Known Politician Leaves His Victims Behind Him.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., April 9.—The numerous creditors and clients from all parts of Bucks county have flocked here eager to learn the whereabouts of the well-known lawyer and politician, J. Monroe Shellenberger, who decamped Sunday last for parts unknown, and also to ascertain the full extent of their losses. An official statement made today shows sixty claims against Shellenberger, aggregating $76,735, in sums ranging from $100 to $8,000, the latter amount being claimed by the father of the absconder.

Shellenberger has apparently hoodwinked everybody with whom he had dealings. Claims so far filed are almost entirely for money entrusted to the defaulter for investment, interest on mortgages and rents collected by him. Ignorant farmers, who trusted him implicitly, were victimized in the grossest manner. To one farmer he gave what purported to be a receipt for money paid, but which turned out to be a promissory note, which the man, in his ignorance, indorsed and for which he is now held liable. Many other stories of similar sharp practice by Shellenberger are told. He has, it is stated, stolen money belonging to the estate of his wife and children, and his own and his wife's relatives are among the sufferers by his misdoings. The assets of the missing man cannot be definitely stated, but this will be only a "drop in the bucket" as compared with his liabilities. Since he disappeared Sunday night not a line, so far as can be learned, has been received to indicate his whereabouts.

IN A FIT OF DESPONDENCY

Mr. Strickland, of Concord, Committs Suicide.

GRIFFIN, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Information reaches the city this afternoon that Mr. Milsey E. Strickland had suicided at Concord. It is said loss caused from having to pay security debts last year had brought out despondency, and to rid himself of further trouble he sought comfort in death. He was found in his barn this morning with his throat cut. In his hand he still held the weapon, his pocket knife, firmly clinched. Mr. Strickland leaves a wife and several children, besides a large number of relatives and friends to mourn his death.

HANGINGS YESTERDAY.

Five Murderers Put Out of the Way—The Crimes for Which They Suffered Death.

MOBILE, Ala., April 9.—George Fields, colored, was hanged this morning, at Scranton, Miss., for the murder of Jennie Mosely, colored, on May 14th last. The drop fell at 10:43, and Fields was pronounced dead in two minutes and six seconds. He acknowledged his crime, and advised his hearers to profit by his fate.

FOUR IN PENNSYLVANIA.

WAYNESBURG, Pa., April 9.—Zack Taylor, condemned for the murder of William McCousland, an Alleghany drover, was hanged at 11:12 o'clock this morning. He was pronounced dead twelve minutes later. On the Scaffold he reiterated his innocence of the crime. George Clark, his brother-in-law, suffered death a few weeks ago for the same crime.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., April 9.—Alfred Andrews was hanged here at 11 o'clock today for the murder of Clara Price, a sixteen-year-old girl, whom he had attempted to outrage. Death resulted from strangulation. The execution was without uncommon incident.

EASTON, Pa., April 9.—William H. Bartholomews was hanged in jail here this morning at 10:33 o'clock, and was pronounced dead at 10:48½. His neck was broken. He was too intimate with the wife of Aaron W. Dillard and killed Dillard to get him out of the way. Mrs. Dillard was a party to the crime. She made a full confession on the day of her husband's funeral and repeated it at Bartholomews's trial, on the promise that her sentence would be commuted to imprisonment for life. In accordance with the promise made, she is now in the Easton penitentiary.

Although Bartholomew had threatened to give the sheriff trouble and fight to the last, he walked to the scaffold quietly and with a firm step. After all arrangements had been completed, he declared himself innocent, and then began cursing all his accusers and demanding that Detective Johnson and his paramour, Mrs. Dillard, be also hung. His last words were mixed with violent oaths and blasphemous language.

EDENSBURG, Pa., April 9.—Charles Carter, a negro, was hanged here today for the murder, at Johnstown, last November, of one of his boon companions named John Matthews. Both men were hard customers, and the murder was the result of a quarrel about a colored prostitute. Carter met his death cheerfully and courageously.

MR. RANDALL'S CONDITION.

He is in a Precarious State, But Exhibits Great Strength.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Representative Randall's condition tonight is just about the same as last night. He is, if anything, a little easier, but this is due to the free flow from the abscesses. He may, at any time, have a recurrence of the relapses, which sap away his strength. He is in a precarious state, but has strength enough left, it is said, to resist the inroads of disease for the immediate present.

A remarkable thing about his illness is the extraordinary vitality he exhibits. He rallies surprisingly and on several occasions, he astonishes his physicians—Drs. Mallan and Lincoln,—by his recuperative power. His strength, however, is diminishing and though his will power remains unabated, his physical system responds much more slowly than some time ago. His mind has been clear all day and he has been able to move himself about in bed with but little assistance. In appearance he is wasted and gaunt to a degree that makes all the more remarkable the strength which still remains.

Speaker Reed and others called at the house during the day but did not see the sick man.

IT WOULD INJURE THE NEGRO.

Mr. Jones's Argument Against Conger's Lard Compound Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—By request the house committee on agriculture today re-opened the hearing on the Conger lard compound bill, and Mr. Butterworth's anti-option bill, both of which have been reported to the house with favorable recommendations. On the first named bill, Mr. Graves, representing the Georgia Agricultural association, and J. Pennoyer Jones, representing colored cotton farmers and planters of Arkansas, and colored men, made arguments against its passage. Mr. Graves in addition to the arguments already presented, pleaded for the protection of the cotton seed industry against the imposition of the burdens contained in the bill on the ground that it had contributed more than anything else to improve the condition of the colored farmer and laborer of the south. To pass this bill, he asserted, would be the entering wedge which, when driven home, would separate the colored people from the republican party. In the course of his argument on the bill.

THE ANTI-OPTION BILL.

Representative Adams, of Louisiana, introduced to the committee, Messrs. Counselmon and Murray Nelson, of the Chicago board of trade, who appeared to oppose the Butterworth anti-option bill. Mr. Counselmon occupied all the time of the committee. He stated that he indorsed, both in letter and in spirit, the provisions of the first section of the bill, forbidding any privileged or class dealing. That was a rule of the board of trade. The second section, which forbid dealing by any one but the producer and the purchaser direct from him in any article not in possession of the seller, wiped out of existence the business of himself and all legitimate dealers, as well as illegitimate. Mr. Counselmon was asked if he could suggest any way by which the illegitimate speculation could be prescribed without affecting the legitimate, and said he could not without time to consider the subject. Mr. Counselmon was given a copy of the amended bill to study, with a view to suggesting a provision, if possible by which legitimate dealers in grain and farm products may be protected and the business of illegitimate speculators prohibited and abolished.

THE TARIFF BILL.

The Committee Meets and Makes a Few Changes.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The ways and means committee was in session a short time this morning. The republican members submitted a few changes that have been made in the bill during the last ten days, and they were ordered to be incorporated. The changes include those made in the cotton Loslery schedule and the provision is that the increased duty on fine linens shall not take effect until January 1, 1894, otherwise they were confined to changes in phraseology. It is expected that the majority and minority reports will be completed tomorrow.

The committee was in conference for several hours this afternoon, adding the finishing touches to the tariff bill. The most important change made was in the schedule relating to fine linens, and here the committee reconsidered all former action, wiped out the provision that increased duty shall be collected in 1894, and fixed rates as they stand in the existing law.

THE DEMOCRATS STILL WINNING.

Kansas City Has a Democratic Majority—Elections Elsewhere.

KANSAS CITY, April 9.—Semi-official returns from every precinct show the election of Holmes, democrat, mayor, by about 1,900 majority. Peake, democrat, is elected over Case, republican, as treasurer. Frazer, democrat, defeated Quinby, republican, for city attorney. Michael Boland, noted as a member of the Clan-na-Gael triangle, was the republican candidate for police judge. He was defeated by Wheeler, democrat. The republicans elected Bishop as auditor, and Cannon as speaker of the upper house. Fourteen members of the upper house were eleced; seven of these are republicans and seven democrats. Four aldermen were elected from wards including the recently annexed territory to the city. Of these two are republicans and two democrats.

This is the first time in four years that the democrats have elected their candidate for mayor.

WIDE-AWAKE DEMOCRATS.

They Hold Another Town Meeting and Elect Representatives.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 9.—A report has been received from West Greenwich, that after the polls closed yesterday afternoon, and the vote had been counted, disclosing no election, the democrats organized another meeting and resumed the voting. The prohibitionist town clerk had gone home to attend to his chores, but the democrats elected a town clerk, pro tem. Fish, democrat, was elected senator, and Rathborne, democrat, representative. It is reported that the town clerk will refuse to issue certificates of election to Fish and Rathborne. The composition of the legislature now stands—fifty-two republicans, forty-nine democrats, with nine members to be elected.

They Were Good Bonds.

WORCESTER, Mass., April 9.—The bonds stolen by Teller Kimball, of the Peoples' savings bank were mostly gilt-edge railroad bonds, readily negotiable. Their face value was $43,500, but the market value was between $4,000 and $5,000 additional.

TELEGRAPH BREVITIES.

Bond offerings yesterday $77,600; all accepted at 122 for four per cents 103½ for four and a halfs.

The Texas Standard cotton seed oil mill, near Galveston, Tex., burned Tuesday night. It will prove a fatal loss.

Mrs. Elizabeth Storrs Billings Meade, widow of Rev. Dr. Meade, was yesterday elected president of Mount Holyoke college.

In the suit of George B. Mosely vs. Charles A. Calvo, proprietor of the Columbia, S. C. Register, for libel, the jury returned a verdict for defendant.

VISITED BY STORMS.

A SMALL CYCLONE DROPS DOWN ON THE COUNTRY.

AND DOES CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE.

Great Destruction in Western Pennsylvania—Some Loss of Life—The High Waves in Lake Michigan.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Recent heavy wind storms in this part of the country have caused an unusually deep disturbance of the waters of Lake Michigan. Yesterday a series of tidal waves swept in upon this shore. From the crest to the trough of the waves was only about five feet, as shown by the rising and falling of the waters in the river, but they swept in with great speed and made everything dance. Vessels were carried in shore and run aground in the mud; those attached to the piers were jerked from their fastenings and there were a number of other escapes from wrecking against abutments. This lasted for some hours, the waves succeeding each other at short intervals. It seems that the same influences were felt at other points on the lake. At Racine, Wis., the waters seemed to be drawn away from the shore, lowering the surface very noticeably.

THE TORNADO IN OHIO.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 9.—A special from Akron, Ohio, says: Two clouds came together Tuesday evening about two miles northwest of Sharon, Medina county, and then began to revolve in tornado fashion and bear down upon the village. The tornado's progress was marked by roaring and grinding sounds. In ten minutes it had leveled everything in its track, over six miles of farm land, for the width of thirty rods, demolished dozens of buildings, killed one man, fatally injured a man and a woman, and seriously injured several others. Forests, in which were trees two feet in diameter, were cut down as if they had been cornstalks. The storm trailed along into Stark county, leaving debris scattered over a stretch of fifteen miles. The loss amounts to tens of thousands.

THE STORMS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 9.—Western Pennsylvania was visited by an unusual rain, wind and electric storm this morning. Great damage was done, and two lives were lost. In this city a number of houses were struck by lightning and several persons were stunned. The rain fell in torrents for several hours, flooding cellars and causing small streams to overflow. At West Elizabeth bay, two children of George Beattie, a boy and girl aged seven, were drowned on their way to school. While crossing a foot-log over Dobbs Run, the little girl lost her footing and fell in the water, and her brave little twin brother, in trying to rescue her, lost his life also.

At Indiana, Pa., a bolt of lightning struck the flouring mill of Wegley & Wilson, and it was burned. Loss $15,000.

In Westmoreland county great damage is reported. For two hours the rain fell in torrents, and nearly all the streams overflowed their banks, washing away bridges.

At Penn station a number of families were compelled to vacate their houses and seek shelter on high ground.

A BREEZE IN THE PARK.

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., April 9.—A fierce storm swept over this place at 11 o'clock last night, doing heavy damage to property. Although only one person was injured, a number had narrow escapes. The wind came from the northwest and the path of destruction was about half a mile wide. The Catholic church, a large structure, gave way before the blast and fell into a shapeless mass. The houses of M. Rafferty and Martin Blettel which adjoined the church on the west were next blown over, their occupants escaping in their night clothes without injury. The roof was lifted off of Mrs. Collins's large residence, hurled into the lot and dashed into splinters. The residence occupied by C. Stokes and family was unroofed and otherwise damaged. Mr. Kreger's residence suffered similar damage and an old lady in the house was seriously hurt by a large piece of wood which struck her in the side. A blacksmith shop, a large sized frame structure was carried twenty feet and torn to pieces. The roof blown off the grocery store of Thomas Evans, the building badly shattered and serious damage done to the stock. The front of Goldberg's store was blown in and the stock scattered in all directions. Central hotel lost nearly all its blinds and was otherwise damaged. The front of Mrs. Kenney's store was crushed by the wind and a large portion of the stock ruined. Other buildings and fences all over the place were blown down, trees prostrated, and the town shaken up generally. The damage cannot be accurately estimated but will probably reach $30,000.

DAMAGE AT ROANOKE.

ROANOKE, Va., April 9.—The greatest tornado for many years passed over this city this evening. The casthouse at Crozier iron furnace was blown down, and three laborers were killed and one was mortally wounded. The loss to the furnace company is $5,000. Nearly one hundred dwellings in course of erection were demolished. Salem furnace was blown down, a heavy loss being reported, and buildings in that vicinity were reduced to ruins. Loss $10,000.

An Afflicted Family.

GRIFFIN, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—THE CONSTITUTION chronicled the death of Mr. Walter Williams, one of the firm composing the "Racket" store. This family is terribly afflicted, another one of them dying today from pneumonia contracted while attending the burial of his brother. The wife of the late Mr. Williams is lying at the point of death, and may join her husband before the appearance of this article. There is still another brother and a young baby of the deceased gentleman's afflicted family prostrated with the fearful malady that seems so fatal to their family.

The Fugitives Arrested.

BUCHANAN, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Sheriff Holcombe arrested and lodged in jail this morning George and Morris Lee, charged with attempting to kill Wyatt Williams, at Felton, Saturday evening last. Williams slapped George Lee in the face. Lee went off, but came back with his brother, Morris, and cousin, Green Lee. After some few words George Lee began cutting Williams, who was cut in three places—once in the right lung and twice in the back. He will probably die.

Fire in Decatur.

DECATUR, Ala., April [illegible].—[Special].—Fire was discovered at 8 o'clock in the forging department of the United States Rolling Stock company's works. The machine shop, blacksmith shop, moulding room and engine room quickly caught and were totally destroyed. About fifty new box cars were burned. The loss is about $200,000 and fully four hundred laborers are thrown out of employment.

Didn't Like the Sensation.

GRIFFIN, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—A little son of Mr. Charles R. Doe got a buckshot in his ear while playing with some little friends this morning. Dr. J. M. Kelly extracted the shot. The operation, though painful, was borne manfully by the little sufferer.

The Funeral of Captain Brooks.

GRIFFIN, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—The funeral procession of Captain Brooks, whose remains were laid to rest this morning, was the largest ever seen in Griffin. A line of carriages reaching from the residence to the junction of Hill and Solomon streets, fully one-fourth of a mile long, followed the remains.

By request of the honorable mayor and council all business was suspended from 10 to 12 o'clock, out of respect to his memory.

THE CRUSHED SKULL,

Which Was Too Much For the Vitality of Abraham Clark.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Information has been received of another battle among the negroes of Baldwin county. This time the fight occurred in the northern part of the county, on the plantation belonging to Mr. Green, and is the same old story of a woman's tongue. The church-going negroes of that section have recently organized themselves into a society for the purpose of raising money for the church, as well as to give pleasure to its membership.

THE ENTERTAINMENTS WERE NUMEROUS.

During the last several months these entertainments have attracted the attention of the brethren and sisters for miles around. Sometimes it was a pound party, then a fair or a dime party—in fact, everything that would draw a crowd or reap reward. The entertainments have been harmonious, and the utmost friendship has existed among the people until recently, but alas, one of the sisters told another sister in confidence, that she believed one of the brethren was guilty of theft, and should be expelled from their society. It seems that the accused brother held a warm spot in this other sister's heart, so the information was accepted as an insult, and was resented in an exclamation that brought on a heated argument, in which the brethren took part at a little later stage.

THE FIGHT HAS FATAL RESULTS.

The women came to blows, and a moment later the men were slashing razors, clubs, sticks, hoe-handles, etc. A panic ensued, and the fight became reckless. Men and women were beat over the heads with sticks and none seemed to care where their blows landed. The fight was kept up until fighting material was exhausted, at which time there were a half dozen men and women lying around the premises with heads mashed and beat up in a terrible manner. Abraham Clarke is the only one of the party killed, though nearly a dozen others are badly bruised up. His skull was crushed in several places.

HARRY PHINIZY'S GRIT.

He Throws a Live Issue Into the Legislative Race.

ATHENS, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Mr. Harry Phinizy will have an interview in tomorrow's Banner, in which he will plant himself squarely on the anti-prohibition side of the liquor question, and make that an issue of the race. Mr. Phinizy is in favor of putting Clarke county under the general local option law of 1884, and also believes that whisky should be brought back to Athens. This opens a wide field for discussion, but it is believed that other issues will swallow this one up.

The number of candidates was increased today by the announcement of Mr. Tolbert N. Lester, a prominent alliance man of this county. It is now a four-cornered fight between Messrs, Cobb, Mell, Phinizy and Lester

An Atlanta Boy Wins.

ATHENS, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—At the tombola last night a handsome sword was placed before the crowd to be voted to the most popular commissioned officer of the University battalion and Clarke Rifles. The sword was the present of the Pettibone Manufacturing company, and was very handsome. The voting was quite heavy, and several officers ran very close together on the final count. The result of the vote gave the sword to Captain Pryor L. Mynatt, Jr., of Atlanta, who was warmly congratulated by his friends. He is among the best drilled officers at the University.

The Sun's Cotton Review.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Futures opened at a decline of a few points. Liverpool disappointed the bulls, who have been operating in expectation of a better market there, and there was free selling. At the first call slight recovery followed, but the market relapsed into dullness and so closed. A feature was the relatively larger business in the early months with May taking the lead. There was nothing in the crop movement or weather report to attract attention.

The Speech Was Unsatisfactory.

LONDON, April 9.—Mr. Gladstone's speech yesterday on the Balfour land purchase bill fails to satisfy the Irish party. T. P. O'Connor's paper, the Star, this afternoon pronounces it disappointing. The moment has arrived, the Star thinks, when leaders of the liberal party should declare clearly and explicitly that the Balfour bill cannot be accepted.

The Chicago Strikes.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Pursuant to the terms of arbitration signed yesterday, the plumbers all went to work this morning. The carpenters' strike, however, seems no nearer a settlement than on the first day. There is no sign of yielding or compromise on either side. The journeymen announce themselves prepared for an all-summer campaign.

Rome Very Bad Financially.

LONDON, April 10.—The Times' correspondent at Rome says: It is reported that inquiry into municipal finances reveals a state of bankruptcy exceeding the worst anticipations. The government declines further to assist in averting the crash. Numerous failures are expected.

PRISONERS WANTED.

A Number of Criminals Locked Up Who Are Wanted Elsewhere.

Bart Strozier, who was locked up on a charge of assault with intent to murder, and is now in jail, has been partially identified as the man who committed a murder in Griffin last summer and is wanted in that city. He was arrested by Call Officer Ivy and Mounted Officer Phillips for stabbing another negro on the corner of Cain and Ellis streets about a week ago.

ANOTHER CASE.

John Gamble, the negro who was shot at five times by Patrolmen Ethridge Saturday night, and was afterwards arrested by Patrolmen Henry Abbott and Bailey, is supposed to be wanted in Pickens county, South Carolina, on a charge of murder. Gamble will be held until the South Carolina authorities are heard from.

THE LAST ARREST.

A white man named Jim Burt, who has lost the sight of one eye, was arrested by Patrolmen Jim Wootten, Steerman and Pelot. He had on his person a certificate of deposit in Gate City National bank of $550, and $283.55 in cash. He is supposed to be wanted in Anniston, Ala., but there is nothing definite regarding his crime in that state, if any exists.

He gave his name as McGinty when he was locked up, and a card containing his name indicates that he belongs to the Moulders' Union. From his appearance he seemed to be slightly under the influence of liquor.

SOME MEN YOU MEET.

Hon. R. W. Patterson, one of Bibb's able representatives in the legislature, accompanied by his wife, is in the city. The latter is a sister of Mrs. Walker, nee Miss Gertrude Snider. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson came to attend the wedding last evening. Mr. Patterson is one of the most promising young men of the state, and as an orator has established a reputation that has gone beyond the limits of the state. He was one of the foremost members of the last house, and rendered particularly brilliant service as the chairman of the house conference committee on the lease bill. He is a young Georgian with a brilliant future before him.

* * *

Captain Price Gilbert, of Columbus, has been in the city for several days attending the meeting of the state military advisory board. Captain Gilbert will be almost certainly returned to the next house from Muscogee county, which shows that his people appreciate his able services as a member of the last house.

THE GALLANT KNIGHTS

HAVE CAPTURED THE HEARTS OF CANTON'S PEOPLE.

The Meeting of the Grand Conclave of the Knights of Honor of Georgia—The Reception of the Delegates.

CANTON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—The Knights of Honor of Georgia are in possession of the town for today and tomorrow, and right gladly has the town turned over to them the keys, both to our homes and hearts. The knights are a jolly, good set of fellows, representative citizens of Georgia, and Canton feels honored by their visit and stay in our midst. The occasion of their coming is to attend the fifteenth annual session of the grand lodge of Georgia.

Grand Dictator Steve R. Johnston, of Atlanta, the financial committee, and a few other prominent officers and knights, arrived Tuesday, but the greater part of the one hundred or more, who are now here, came in on this morning's train, and were met at the depot by Canton lodge, K. of H., No. 506, in a body, and escorted to the courthouse.

CALLED TO ORDER.

After the knights and citizens had assembled in the courtroom, Captain J. M. McAfee, dictator of Canton lodge, rapped for order, and in a few appropriate words, expressive of his pleasure and the gratification of the people generally upon having such a fine body of distinguished gentlemen to meet in our town and county, introduced Mayor Turk, who, in behalf of the town, extended to the knights a hearty, generous, whole-souled, open-handed welcome to whatever they saw or wished while here, promising them the best possible treatment by our citizens, and to deal with them as gently and leniently as circumstances would permit should they happen to come before him in an official capacity.

Rev. A. B. Vaughan, Jr., chaplain of Canton lodge, was then presented by Captain McAfee, and welcomed the distinguished visitors, officers and representatives of the grand lodge, in behalf of the Canton lodge, to the homes and hearts of our people, in words both eloquent, earnest, and at times touching and pathetic in the references he made. In the course of his remarks he said: "The cordial greetings which you have already received on every side, the appreciative look which ever our children have given you as you have been pointed out to them, all go to show that words of welcome, either from myself or from another more worthy, are unnecessary to assure you that your presence here is not only a delight to our lodge, but a real pleasure to our people as well. And so, in these words I shall not forget that I do not speak for ourselves alone, but for our people, and their sentiments I shall utter. They would not have me to point to their record in the past as evidence of their hospitality. Rather they would have me say that they do not live on the interest of capital invested; that they do not content themselves with the honors won by ancestors, or with their own past achievments; but that they are now ready, with heart and hand, to contribute whatever they can to cheer you, as you share the sorrows and soften the woes of the widows and orphans of our common country; that they, themselves, are in heart and in spirit Knights of Honor, who always promptly and with pleasure respond to every call made upon them. As evidence of their interest in your work, they bid me to point with pride to this large number whom they have given you as true yoke-fellows. They bid me to assure you that all orders of true manhood, whose aims are as noble and as laudable as yours, find a welcome here; but that you have their first love and warmest affection. They bid me to say that as an expression of this love, they rejoice that many of their trusted and most honored, citizens representing every worthy vocation of their community, farmers and physicians, lawyers and editors, merchants and mechanics, are hailed and known as Knights of Honor. They bid me say that they have given you no gentlemen of leisure, but men of business, men of sterling worth and stainless character. They bid me to assure you that they have watched with interest, and witnessed with admiration the good that you do; that having seen that your motives in this "labor of love" are as pure and as beautiful as their mountain streams, they love the Knights of Honor with a love as pure and boundless as the mountain air they breathe."

In referring to the death of Mr. J. C. Avery, last fall, Rev. Mr. Vaughan very pathetically said: "Just down the street, brothers, directly in front of where you will hold your sessions, you see a peaceful cottage home. In that home there lived and there died a brother knight, whose character we loved, and whose memory we cherish. The sorrow of that home you have greatly alleviated, the gloom of that home you have greatly dissipated. Not that money in itself has power to alleviate such sorrow or to dissipate such gloom, but the benefactions of Knights of Honor always represent a power infinitely greater than that which belongs to wealth simply. In your benefactions, that lone widow and sister has seen, what all widows of brothers departed see—thousands of sympathizing hearts and twice that many ready and willing hands, in her hour of sorrow and need, coming to strengthen, to cheer and sustain her. Beneath that weeping widow's eyes, a widow's heart has been lifted, now and again invoking heaven's blessing upon the Knights of Honor.

Then said he, "Welcome, thrice welcome, such men as that," and sat down amid applause.

Grand Dictator Johnston then arose and thanked the speakers for the kindly words and assurances of an earnest welcome that had been so eloquently expressed. "But," said he, "I know something of these people, having lived among them, hence I can cordially re-echo and indorse the sentiments which have been expressed, and say that the hospitality of Canton's citizens is unsurpassed by any people. You can bear to the widow of our deceased brother the love and sympathy of the grand lodge of Georgia, and of 132,000 Knights of Honor of the United States."

Then, after briefly outlining some of the work to be done by this grand lodge, he adjourned the meeting at the courthouse and directed all representatives to repair at once to the Knights of Honor hall, where the business session is to be held. The members then filed out by twos and were escorted to the lodge room by the Canton Knights.

THE GRAND LODGE IN SESSION.

At about eleven o'clock the grand lodge was called to order by Grand Dictator Johnston; after which prayer was offered by Grand Chaplain Rev. A. P. Jones,

Besides the above named representatives from local lodges in the several cities and towns in the state, the following grand lodge officers are also present:

Grand trustees, N. J. Tumlin, Dr. W. G. Browne, W. T. Kimsey; Financial committee, J. B. Wallace, E. G. Cabaniss, W. E. Platt; supreme representatives, J. P. Shannon, M. M. Hill Dr. R. B. Nisbet. Dr. Nisbet is also state medical examiner. Quite a number of other prominent and honorary knights are present.

Major C. E. McGregor, who is on trial this week in Warrenton for the killing of J. M. W. Cody, is grand vice dictator, and his absence and present troubles is greatly regetted by the members of the grand lodge. Mr. McGregor was in line for election to grand dictator, but it is now pretty generally thought that Mr. W. T. Heidt, of Jonesboro, the present grand assistant dictator, will be elected. The election will probably come up tomorrow morning.

Supreme Dictator A. R. Savage, of Maine, is expected on this evening's train. If he comes, he will make a public speech on the aim, objects and benefits of the Knights of Honor at the courthouse tonight.

On account of Supreme Dictator Savage's address in Atlanta Thursday evening, the members of the grand lodge will not go on the excursion to Murphy, N. C., so kindly and generously tendered by the Marietta and North Georgia Railroad company.

THE EVENING SESSION.

After organizing, the evening session was devoted to hearing and adopting the reports of the finance committee and discussing the proposed change of the constitution, which is to be adopted anew, as many changes in the old are to be made. The degree of past dictator was conferred this evening upon Dr. J. M. Turk, B. F. Crisler, W. S. Cobb, Rev. A. B. Vaughan, Jr., and E. B. Holland. A great deal of work is to be done, but the members are working hard, and hope to get through tomorrow. A. R. Savage, of Maine, and several other prominent knights, came in on the evening train, and were met by the local and visiting knights in a body. Supreme Dictator Savage delivered a fine lecture to the public at the courthouse tonight to a full and appreciative audience.

NORTHBOUND TRAVEL.

The Great Demand for Berths on the Kansas City.

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Travel northward through Savannah has about reached its height. Every steamer going out carries a full list of passengers, and the lists will be large until the end of the month. The Kansas City is in great demand. Everybody takes kindly to her, and the applications for cabins on her are constantly pouring in from different parts of Florida and Georgia. On each of the next three or four trips, anyway, she will carry over a hundred cabin passengers. All of the other steamers are as popular as usual, the run on the Kansas City being merely due to that natural desire on the part of tourists to try the latest and finest addition to the line, so as to tell their friends about her. Almost as soon as the returning tide of tourist travel is over, the exodus of the southerners will begin. Next month there will be quite a number go from Florida and this state. The summer travel from Savannah and the other territory drained by the ocean steamship will not reach much magnitude, however, until June. During that month and July it is expected to be exceptionally heavy, the inclination to go north by sea apparently spreading among a greater number of people every year.

FIRES IN DALTON.

Incendiaries Supposed to Be Responsible for them.

DALTON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Dalton is in the hands of fire bugs. Three fires in three days, and all of suspicious origin, have alarmed the people pretty considerably. Sunday morning the alarm was turned in for a fire in the third ward. The fire was located when too late to save it in a house on South Depot street, occupied by several families of negroes. Monday night the store of E. O. Herndon, on Hamilton street, was burned, and last night a house on North Depot street was destroyed. The fires have all been discovered about 2 o'clock in the morning, and always when too late to save any property. The fire department cannot be praised too highly for their noble work in the last three days. They have responded promptly to every alarm, and while in every instance the roof of the burning building has fallen in before the alarm was turned in, they have confined the fire to the original building, and saved all the adjoining property.

Consumed by Fire.

HARMONY GROVE, Ga., April 9.—[Special.] The handsome residence of Rev. Dr. W. B. J. Hardman, in the lower part of town, was totally consumed by fire yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The fire originated from a spark on the roof of the house, and in the strong westerly wind, this spark was soon fanned into a bright blaze. No ladders were accessible by means of which the top of the house could be reached, hence nothing could be done to stop the rapid progress of the hungry flames. The house was soon entirely consumed and only a few articles of furniture could be saved from the all-devouring element. This loss is doubly hard on Dr. Hardman, as this is the second house in less than a week that he has lost by fire. His son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hardman, who were living with him this year, had the great misfortune to lose all of their furniture and wearing apparel, excepting one suit each that they had on at the time of the fire. To all of the sufferers, the hearts of our whole people go out in tender sympathy.

PROSPEROUS FORSYTH.

An Era of Good Feeling Prevailing in All Classes.

FORSYTH, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—We are now enjoying an era of good feeling in business circles. Building operations are active, trade is encouraging public confidence is hopeful, and things generally look bright for Forsyth.

Judge Hathorne, one of the most enterprising real estate agents in Georgia, is just now one of the best feeling men in the city, owing to the activity in real estate matters. He expects great things for Forsyth.

Dr. W. J. Thurman, who has been confined to his home for some time, is able to resume his profession, and in his neatly fitted office he is prepared to entertain his patients in the most comfortable manner. The doctor is one of the most experienced and skillful dentists in this section, and richly deserves his lucrative practice.

The Troup County Commission.

LAGRANGE, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—The commissioners, at their session on Monday, elected Dr. E. D. Pitman county physician. They, also, for the consideration of five dollars, granted the right-of-way through the pauper farm to the Macon and Birmingham road, and gave the road the privilege of crossing the highways of the county.

The Convention of Northern Settlers.

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—The central committee of the northern men's convention to be held here June 18th, met last night. Numbers of letters were read from all over the state indorsing the call of the convention and pledging support and hearty co-operation.

No well regulated household should be without Angostura Bitters, the celebrated appetizer. Manufactured by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons. Ask your druggist.

IN WARREN COURT.

A TYPICAL COURT WEEK IN GEORGIA DESCRIBED.

The Grand Jury Finds a True Bill against McGregor, and He Will Be Tried at Once—A Great Legal Battle.

WARRENTON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—It is court week in Warren.

Just what that would mean to Warrenton, under ordinary circumstances, everybody who has been in the shire town of a prosperous Georgia county during those periods when court sits, can tell. The town puts on a gala appearance. The hotels and boarding houses are filled with distinguished lawyers from adjoining counties. Politicians and would-be politicians are here. The square is filled with horses and mules of every size and description, each betokening the prosperity which its owner enjoys, or the lack of it. The street fakir is here by a large majority, and the wagon from which he sells his wares is the center of a crowd of anxious bargain hunters, white and black, and then there is the hoss-trading, always an interesting and exciting pastime. Before the week is out everybody has taken a hand in it, and turn where you may you are confronted by stortes of marvelous trades—for nobody ever loses, you know. All of these elements are necessary to a typical Georgia court week, and in Warren none of them are lacking.

AN INTERESTING WEEK,

But more than ordinary interest is this particular court week.

Today, Judge Sam Lumpkin and Solicitor Howard cleared up all the cases on the criminal docket save one, and that probably the most sensational case which has ever come up in the circuit. It is the trial of McGregor, charged with murder in the killing of J. M. W. Cody. Tomorrow McGregor will be put on trial for his life. The story of the tragedy which led to the death of Cody, the feud which has existed, and which still exists, between the friends of the two men, are familiar to newspaper readers. For two days the grand jury has had the case under consideration, but not until this morning was a true bill found. The jury, when a vote was taken upon this case, stood nine for and nine against finding a true bill. After wrestling with the subject for the greater part of two days, it was found that no decision could be reached, and in order to facilitate matters the jury increased its members to twenty-three. Then by a small majority the true bill people won.

The court room was packed when the decision of the grand jury was announced, but there was no excitement, for the result of that body's deliberations had already leaked out. Colonel McGregor was not present. He is in the Augusta jail and will be brought here early in the morning, just on what train is not now known.

A GREAT LEGAL BATTLE.

Everybody expects a great legal battle. Judge Twiggs has been retained to assist the prosecution, while the defense is in the hands of two of the most popular and the two strongest lawyers in this section, Colonel Tom Watson, of Thomson, and Colonel Bob Whitehead, of Warrenton. It is going to be war most bitter between the lawyers, and everybody expects to hear the ablest arguments ever made in Warren's courthouse.

"Well, Bob," said Solicitor-General Howard to Colonel Whitehead, after court had adjourned today, "what are you and Judge Twiggs going to do with this case?"

For a moment the Warren lawyer's face was an interesting study. Then he broke out in a laugh, and said:

"I reckon, Bill, that Twiggs will make the speech, but I'll get the verdict."

I have heard the same opinion very freely expressed today. What the result will be nobody can, of course, say, but no case was ever watched closer than this will be by people all over Georgia. It will be as pretty a legal fight as any court of the state has ever seen. Judge Twiggs will make a great speech, but his won't be the only great one. Tom Watson's heart is in the defense of McGregor, and his friends—they are all his friends here—expect from him the most eloquent speech which ever came from those eloquent lips. He and Whitehead make the strongest kind of a team, and Howard and Twiggs will have their hands full.

JOE OHL.

GREENVILLE'S ANSWER

To President Sparks, of the Macon Construction Company.

The following communication is in reply to the statements of President Sparks, of the Macon Construction company, appearing in these columns several days ago. THE CONSTITUTION has already devoted several columns to this controversy, and dismisses it with the following, proposing only to publish the news developments of the case in future:

GREENVILLE'S ANSWER.

GREENVILLE, Ga., April 8.—Editors Constitution: In your issue of Saturday, the 5th, under the caption of "The Greenville Meeting," appears a communication from W. B. Sparks, president of the Macon Construction company, which communication is so much at variance with the facts of the case as to demand a correction of the numerous errors therein contained.

Mr. Sparks says: "The Macon and Birmingham officials would have accepted the route surveyed by Greenville if it had not been longer and of steeper grade, and more expensive than the road's survey." Now, the truth is, the profile submitted to the Macon and Birmingham officials speaks for itself, and shows that the grade of the route by Greenville is no steeper than the company's line below Greenville. The grade is the very grade that Mr. Sparks required, and is only fifty-two feet to the mile, the identical grade of the route of the company. The profile had been seen by Mr. Sparks when he penned the sentence above quoted. So much for the difference in grade. As to the route by Greenville being more expensive, the facts are that the Greenville committee proposed, without knowing the cost of the company's line, to grade the heaviest mile wherever it might be, or to grade any three miles the town might select. When both these propositions were rejected, the committee proposed to pay the road in cash the estimated difference in the cost of the two routes, viz: fifteen thousand dollars. These propositions were based upon the agreement of Mr. Sparks with the first committee to build the road to Greenville, if that route was not more that a few hundred yards longer and did not cost over $10,000 more, Greenville paying $5,000 of the $10,000 additional cost. The profile submitted showed the Greenville line to be about three-fourths of a mile longer. While this survey was being made, Mr. Sparks was continually clamoring for haste in sending on the profile, or the route might have been made shorter. Indeed, the road's own engineer stated to the Greenville committee that the town line could be shortened upon permanent location, and thus the Greenville line could have been brought within the terms of the contract, which stipulated that it should be only a few hundred yards longer than the company's line. The committee endeavored to meet every condition nominated by Mr. Sparks in his argument with the first committee and every proposition was rejected. Let a candid public with these facts judge between the Macon and Birmingham company and the town of Greenville.

Mr. Sparks expresses surprise when he learns from THE CONSTITUTION that the matter will be carried into the courts! Why, the committee told Mr. Sparks that the matter would be contested in the courts and he asked them not to do so. He even entreated Messrs. Hill and Hinton not to carry out the declaration of Mr. Reeves to transfer the fight to a legal tribunal. Surely, when his memory is thus refreshed he will recall the facts.

Now, a word as to the agreement of Mr. Willis B. Sparks with the first Greenville committee. Mr. Sparks said that if the town would survey a line within a mile of Greenville, that was as short as the located line, he would pay for the survey and build upon it, provided, it cost no more. He was then asked, should the Greenville line cost a few thousand dollars more if he would build upon it. His reply was, if the additional cost was not exceeding $5,000 he would build upon the Greenville line. He was then asked if the route by Greenville cost $10,000 more and the town paid five of the ten thousand dollars if he would still build on that line. Without any hesitation he replied that he would. He was also asked if the line within a mile of Greenville was just a little longer if he would adopt it. He answered that if the Greenville line was a few hundred yards longer that it would make no difference and he would build upon it.

The committee then asked what engineer should run the line, suggesting that his own engineer, Wells, should do the work. Mr. Sparks objected to having Mr. Wells do the work upon the ground that if Wells were to run the line and make it longer or more expensive, Greenville might claim these results came from Mr. Wells being in the service of the company. He suggested Mr. Cowan, who, he said, had run the line for Thomaston, and who, he assured the committee, was not in the interest of the Macon and Birmingham company. Mr. Sparks was then asked if the services of Cowan could not be secured, how Mr. Tutwiler, of Griffin, would do as surveyor. He said that he didn't know Tutwiler. Later on, when Tutwiler's name was mentioned the second time, Mr. Sparks said if the committee got Tutwiler they would not get the road, for Tutwiler would make the line too long and too expensive. His objection to Tutwiler, if objection it could be called, was made, not in the interest of Sparks or his road, but in behalf of Greenville.

As to the diagram drawn by Mr. Hill: Mr. Hill stated that from the county map, which he had examined, it was nearer to go from Woodbury to Moutville, within a mile of Greenville, than to go on the Sparks route, three and a quarter miles below town. Mr. Hill drew a diagram illustrating his statement and showed about the angle the road made to go around Greenville. Mr. Hill never agreed that the fight would be discontinued if the line to be surveyed was not as short or as cheap as the company's line. Such a promise was not asked, for, as above stated, Mr. Sparks agreed to build on the Greenville line, if said line was only a few hundred yards longer and did not cost over $10,000 more. Mr. Hill did say to Mr. Sparks: "If our people see that you are dealing fairly and squarely with us; if they see, after a fair and impartial survey, that the line is so much longer and costs so much more that you could not afford to build upon it, there will not be the disposition to fight you that now exists." So much as to what occurred between Mr. Sparks and the committee.

The committee went from the office of Mr. Sparks to the telegraph office and dispatched first to Thomaston, then to Opelika, for Mr. Cowan. That gentleman would give no direct answer, until informed as to the exact nature of the work desired, when he promptly responded that he "had a job and couldn't come." Returning home via Griffin, Mr. Tutwiler was seen, who, Mr. Sparks said, would make the line too long and too costly for Greenville. He, Tutwiler, promised to bring Mr. Ben Roberts, an Atlanta surveyor of repute, and with him run a line for us. The committee, not resting their case entirely with these two skillful engineers, engaged the services of Captain John H. Williams, former county surveyor, and a skilled and experienced civil engineer. The line was run, being only three-fourths of a mile longer, (a few hundred yards longer) and estimated to cost about $15,000 more. All this estimated additional cost the second committee proposed to pay in cash for Greenville, Mr. Wells, Mr. Sparks's engineer, saying that the route could be shortened. Which party showed a disposition to stand squarely by the agreement made between Sparks and the first committee? Let the public answer.

Now, let's see whether the agreement of Mr. Sparks was submitted in good faith, and whether Greenville had a fair opportunity to run the best line that could be obtained. The committee had scarcely got the survey under headway when a telegram was received from Mr. Sparks stating that "the profile must be submitted at once." Several of these dispatches were received, instructing the committee to send on the profile "at once." Mr. Sparks, too, will, doubtless, admit writing an anonymous article to the ATLANTA CONSTITUTION just after the survey began and while sending the "at once" profile dispatches, in which article he said it was better to move Greenville to the railroad than to build the road to Greenville. Was this acting in good faith? Nor is this all. Almost from the time the survey began, contractors were at work upon the disputed territory and Mr. Sparks was more than once telegraphed or written to to have them removed until the Greenville survey could be finished. He responded that he could not control his sub-contractors and to send in the profile at once. Was not all these acts impediments in the way of getting a short line and the best route which more time and less urging of an "at once" submission of the profile might have enabled us to obtain? When the committee sent him a synopsis of his agreement, instead of responding to the committee he went to Captain R. E. Park, and obtained from him a few lines stating that "substantially" Sparks had stated the case as he, Captain Park, remembered it. All this time Mr. Sparks had the committee's version of the contract in detail, not substantially, which version Mr. Sparks with wonderful fairness, failed to show Captain Park and ask his opinion as to which was more substantially correct. Before rushing to a notary public, why didn't Mr. Sparks, in a spirit of fairnes, submit the Greenville committee's recollection of the agreement to Captain Park? Would it have been unfair to Sparks to have said, "Captain Park, here is what the Greenville committee say is the contract, here is what I say, which is correct?"

Another evidence of Mr. Sparks's good faith in making the proposition to the Greenville committee is seen in the fact that when the second committee went to Macon, Mr. Sparks said: I know when you were here before and I made the proposition to your committee that you could not get as good a route through Greenville. If he knew that fact, why run Greenville to the cost of a survey? Why not have told the committee at the outset that he knew the fact? Wouldn't fair dealing and common honesty require that he tell the facts and not have Greenville spend her money for nothing? Why refuse to run the survey for Greenville and demonstrate the fact without expense to the town?

If Mr. Sparks intended to give Greenville a fair chance would he have sent lawyers to Greenville to secure the right-of-way over the disputed territory during the progress of the survey?

If he intended to act squarely by the town, why did he need a lawyer to help him?

We have given the facts, and are willing for the public and the courts to pass upon the matter, and think the verdict will be that Mr. Sparks should be made to carry out his solemn contract.

AUGUSTA'S ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

The Horse Car Company Tries to Shut Out the Electric Lines.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 9.—The Augusta and Summerville Street Railroad company applied for an injunction to the Richmond Superior court to restrain the Augusta Street Railway company, composed of Kansas City capitalists, from building an electric railroad in this city. The old company set up the claim under its charter from the legislature, and ordinances and contracts with the city of Augusta that it had the exclusive right to all the streets for railroad purposes. Judge Rowly, in rendering the decision, said that the old company had exclusive rights for a street railroad propelled by animal power, but that it had no exclusive right as to cars propelled by electricity, motor power having been discovered and introduced since the original charter and contracts with the city. The injunction, was therefore, refused. The new company is constructing fifteen miles of electric street railway in the city and suburbs, improvements in progress making advance in the value of real estate, and the attention of capitalists is being directed to Augusta from the north and west.

Another Sentence Suspended.

Headaches and Fevers, to cleanse the system effectually, yet gently, when costive or bilious, or when the blood is impure or sluggish, to permanently cure habitual constipation, to awaken the kidneys and liver to a healthy activity, without irritating or weakening them, use Syrup of Figs.

In 1850 "Brown's Bronchial Troches" were introduced, and their success as a cure of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Bronchitis has been unparalleled.

GREED OF GAIN

and thirst for pleasure. The ruling passion of the human family. In grasping after riches the brain is taxed, the nervous system strained. In the pursuit of pleasure the body is tortured by fashion's despotic sway; the hours designed for repose are devoted to exhausting revelry; the stomach is ruthlessly imposed upon; pure water, the natural drink for all created beings, is ignored, and liquid fire is substituted until, ere we are aware of it, disease has fixed its iron grasp upon us. Then we look for the "remedy."

To the victim of these follies, we commend Dr. Tutt's Liver pills. They stimulate the liver, strengthen the nerves, restore the appetite and build up the debilitated body.

23—Copenhill Lots—23

HIGHEST EMINENCE. BEAUTIFUL NATURAL TRACT. ARTISTICALLY LANDSCAPED

TRAVERSED BY ELECTRIC CARS

—ON—

TUESDAY, April 22, 1890, at 3 p. m.

I will sell upon the premises 23 of the choicest selected lots of the Copenhill Land Company.

Situated in Northeast Atlanta, on that beautiful historical hill immediately north of Inman Park. This is the first of a series of sales to be held by the Copenhill Land Co., who own about 200 acres of picturesque park land, on which they intend to deny nothing that brains, money and art can do to render it the most recherche residence Park in the south. The landscape engineering is under the supervision of Major Chas. Boeckh, who has a corps of workmen NOW AT WORK, and for two past months, grading wide, winding avenues, trimming groves, shaping residence lots, and interspersing the whole tract with picturesque Park spots and silvery spring lakes.

Rapid transit from suburb to city is realized at last. The electric cars traverse in a semi circle the entire tract.

The lots to be sold are selected as the prettiest and most attractive of the entire tract, and are put upon the market with a view to let real estate investors know the improvements contemplated and to be carried out.

Every lot put up will be sold absolutely upon its merits, without reserve and without buncombe.

Free transportation on electric car to sale and return from Broad street terminus. Call and get a plat and go out with your family and select a lot and attend the sale.

TERMS—One-third cash, 1 and 2 years; 8 per cent interest.

CENTRAL REAL ESTATE!

FOR SALE!

The Largest, Best and Most Valuable Central Business Property in Atlanta.

SO NEAR THE CENTER THAT CAN BE BOUGHT

Just the place for a mammoth wholesale house, city hall, Masonic temple, hotel, market house, etc. The business houses of the city having surrounded my home, No. 101 Peachtree street, and having gone an entire block beyond, being built up solidly with brick stores, all occupied by first-class mercantile houses, bringing large rents, preparations for the erection of another magnificent mammoth building of 150 rooms, within 100 feet, are now being made.

For these reasons, I have concluded to offer for sale my home place, that I may move away from the noise, confusion and jam, incident to a central business locality, and improve my property further out on Peachtree.

This property is situated on the crowning eminence of Atlanta, having an altitude of 1,050 feet. The rain falling on the front of the lot flows to the Gulf of Mexico; on the rear, to the Atlantic ocean. It fronts Peachtree, Pryor, Forsyth and Church streets, all converging to this point; an open area of over 200 feet in front, with a side alley 16 feet wide, affording the best ventilation and light, with a full view of Kennesaw mountain and Blue Ridge in front and Stone Mountain in the rear. It is 100x250 feet, with a rock dwelling on it, which cost about $10,000. For the reasons given, I will sell a bargain in this property.

THE ANGRY GALE.

A DAY OF FRIGHT IN MACON AND VICINITY.

The City Visited by a Disastrous Wind Storm —A Belated Party at Rose Hill Cemetery —The Extent of the Damage.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—One of the fiercest wind storms that has visited this city in some time occurred this afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock, and for awhile there was great uneasiness that a cyclone was at hand.

THE STORM COMES UP.

The storm came up very suddenly, and pedestrians and others were totally unprepared. Signs were blown down in the business portion of the city, and the streets were so full of dust that it was almost impossible to see the buildings on the opposite side. Dry goods boxes were taken up and carried several hundred yards, and in some instances the force of the wind was so great they were torn in pieces.

THE DAMAGE DONE.

In the city and its suburbs many trees and fences were blown down. Tin roofs were blown off several stores. The new Methodist church in East Macon was blown down, and several small houses in that section suffered. The roof of the storeroom of the Bibb mills was damaged. The grain elevator of Taylor Bros. & Hall, in course of construction, was blown down. The roof of Findlay's foundry and the tin roof of Burke & Co.'s music store were blown off. Tin roofs of freight cars were lifted off as easily as though they might have been straw.

IN ROSE HILL CEMETERY.

The most serious accident happened at Rose Hill cemetery. A number of persons were attending the funeral of a child of Night Yardmaster H. A. Blue, of the East Tennessee road. Before the grave was covered up the storm arose. Eight or ten mourners fled for refuge under the covered platform near the confederate soldiers' graves. An immense oak tree standing on the embankment near by, was blown down, and fell on the top of the roof, crushing it in, but remarkable to say, no one was killed, and only two were hurt. Mrs. Charlie Joiner, wife of a flagman on the East Tennessee road, was knocked down by a tree. A severe gash was cut above her eye and her shoulder and body was badly bruised. She had her 3-year-old girl in her arms at the time. The child was hurled to the floor of the platform and her arm was caught under a piece of timber. The child's arm had to be prized and cut out of the debris. It was so badly crushed that amputation may be necessary.

THE DAMAGE ALONG THE RAILROADS.

Macon escaped the full severity of the storm as usual, for many years past. The storm split a short distance above Macon, and the forks went around two sides of the city. The greatest damage, no doubt, was done below Macon. Several miles of telegraph wire on the Southwestern road, between Macon and Fort Valley, are down. The same state of affairs exist n the East Tennessee road between Macon and Cochran. Several large trees were blown across the track, and the up passenger train was delayed some time until the debris should be removed. Had the storm occurred at night, serious railroad accidents might have occurred. The freight trains are tied up below Macon, owing to the impossibility of making telegraphic communication. Passengers arriving on the East Tennesse trains say the storm was fearful near Bullards. Great limbs of trees and fence rails were hurled through the air like pieces of paper. The passengers apprehended that the train would be blown off the track. The wind in Macon lasted but a few moments. It was followed by a heavy rain, accompanied with considerable hail.

A Storm Passes Over Columbus.

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—A heavy wind storm, accompanied by hail visited the city at four o'clock this afternoon. The tall brick chimney at the electric light works was blown down on the roof of the building crushing it in. The city is in darkness tonight in consequence, except in places where gas can be used. A number of trees and fences were blown down. Nobody was hurt.

ANOTHER HOTEL FOR MACON,

Capitalists of That City Want to Erect One to Cost $150,000.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Macon stands a chance so secure another magnificent hotel.

Mr. W. W. Collins, representing local capitalists, petitioned council last night to donate the pieces of ground used as a park on Third street, between Mulberry and Cherry or between Poplar and Cherry for the purpose of erecting the hotel. It is proposed to erect a handsome building, 420x70 feet and four stories high, to cost $150,000. It will be one of the most elegant hotels in the south when completed; all of the stock will be taken by Macon men and one gentleman is so impressed with the scheme that he offered to take every dollar of the stock not subscribed by other parties.

A lane runs through the parks, and the hotel will be arched over this. The matter is being discussed among the citizens, and is meeting with some opposition, but a large number think it a splendid way to utilize the wide streets.

Of course the legislature would have to grant the use of the street before the council could act.

Just what will be the outcome is not yet known, but it would unquestionably be a great thing for Macon if such a hotel was erected.

This Will Interest You.

MACON, April 9.—[Special.]—In 1883 Ovid Sparks located six lots in Florida for his brother, W. B. Sparks, president of the Macon Construction company, simply for orange growing. On four of these lots valuable deposits of phosphate have been found.

The Elberton Peach company, of Macon, recently organized, is very sanguine of making big profits in the near future. It has lately finished setting out 80,000 peach trees on its farm—the Smith place—in Houston county, bought a short while ago. One good season will make the company rich. The peach orchard is fringed with Keiffer pear trees, also the wild-goose plums. This great orchard is within a quarter of a mile of the Georgia Southern road. A branch track will run from the main line to the orchard. The freights to the Georgia Southern from this orchard will be immense. Last year Rumph, the great peach man of southwest Georgia, paid the railroads $80,000 for transporting the product of three hundred and fifty acres of peaches, and is said to have made over $40,000 net. What then can be expected from the eight hundred acres of the Elberton company. This company bought nearly ten thousand dollars worth of trees from the Rumph nursery.

Social Matters.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—The German club will give a picnic at Beech Haven at an early day.

The Macon Volunteers will celebrate their 66th anniversary by a picnic at Beach Haven on the 23d instant. The Floyd Rifles will celebrate their anniversary at the same place and in the same manner on May 1st.

Mrs. S. R. Jaques is visiting Mrs. T. H. Stockton at Jacksonville, Fla.

Next Tuesday night the Progress club will give a grand complimentary ball to Miss Belle Harris and her visiting friends. Miss Harris will soon be married. It will be brilliantly solemnized at the synagogue.

The German club dance a very delightful german at the Volunteers' armory tonight. There were a number of married ladies in attendance. Mr. Phil Bonner led the german. The belles and beaux dancing were: Miss Mamie Eaton, of St. Louis, and R. W. Cubbegor, Jr.; Miss Leize Glover, of Marietta and Jim Wilkes; Miss Lizzie Bonn and T. A. Burke, Miss Daisy Clisby and Phil Bonner, Miss Ilah Dunlap and C. C. Holt, Miss Clara Dunlap and Will Redding, Miss Fannie Cook and W. B. Troy, Miss Maud Campbell and Roland T. Ellis, Miss Lizzie Jones and C. A. Caldwell, Miss Maggie Smith and H. B. Hodgkins, Miss Louise Hunter and J. McCaw, Miss Pauline Stewart and How'd White, Miss Eugenie Speer and Frank Hazlehurst, Miss Annie Hanson and J. D. Coehart, Miss Minnie Wilcox and L. J. Anderson, Miss Hodgkins and J. Clisby, Miss Ruth Tinsley and E. S. Freeman.

Gossip of the City.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Last week a negro named Elkaney Hudson was carried to the lunatic asylum. Today Ordinary Wiley was notified by Superintendent Powell of the asylum that Hudson escaped yesterday. It is generally believed that Hudson feigned insanity so as not to be tried for larceny, on which charge he was arrested and put in jail.

Ordinary Wiley today granted letters of guardianship to J. H. Ray for Laura J. Wiley and Thomas J. Wiley; also for Edna and James Stephens. Letters were granted to Mrs. Ella J. Wiley for Warren Ray Wiley. The above minors were the own children and step-children of Lieutenant W. A. Wiley, who died suddenly at the late mardi gras. Lieutenant Wiley had his life insured for about fifteen thousand dollars.

Arrested on a Serious Charge.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Thomas Chestney, a very respectable white carpenter who has been working in Macon for some time, was arrested this morning, while at work on Fourth street, by an officer from Toombsboro. Chestney is charged with complicity in the murder of a negro named Jerry Stanley, which occurred last Christmas. The grand jury has found true bills against his half-brother, Charles Daniels, for murder, and against himself and another half-brother, William Daniels, for complicity. He was carried to Toombsboro this morning.

To Increase Capital Stock.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—The Macon Knitting company petitions for an amendment to charter, so as to be able to increase its capital stock to any amount not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars. The present charter allows only $100,000 capital. The knitting company propose making very large improvements in machinery and additions to buildings. It will become one of the most prominent enterprises in the city.

Will Build Shops.

MACON, April 9.—[Special.]—The Georgia Southern and Macon and Birmingham railroads have bought nineteen acres of land from Mr. W. H. Whitehead, just outside the city limits, near the Macon Oil works, and will erect a shop, warehouse and a large cotton compress thereon. The investment will be considerably over $100,000. It is reported that the roads paid over $1,000 per acre for the land.

In Honor of Hanson.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—The Macon and Birmingham road is building rapidly. It is the intention of the management to name a certain town to be built on the line, "Hanson," in honor of Major J. F. Hanson, of Macon. It is understood that a large cotton factory will be constructed at the town. "Hanson" will be between Macon and LaGrange. Enough said for the present.

Cotton Compresses.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—There are already two large cotton compresses in Macon, towit: The Central railroad's and English & Co.'s. A third company is now being formed to establish a large compress. It is understood that it will operate under the fostering care of the Georgia Southern and Macon and Birmingham railroads.

Deaths in Macon.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Today Mrs. Catharine Caison died at the residence of Mrs. M. Scarborough, No. 554 Ash street. She was aged over eighty years, and was known to many of the older residents of Macon.

Today little Claudia Head died. The remains will be taken to Forsyth for burial.

Mr. Sidney Smith left today for Minneapolis, called there by the death of his wife's father.

Personal Points.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Solicitor-General Felton, and other Macon lawyers, are attending court at Perry.

Miss S. C. Cooper, of Americus, is visiting her sister, Miss Andrew Orr.

Miss Lillie E. Collier, who has been spending the winter in Florida, has returned to Macon.

Dr. W. A. O'Daniel, of Twiggs county, has moved to Macon to live. Dr. O'Daniel is a young gentleman of fine intelligence and affable manners. He is cordially welcomed to Macon.

President W. B. Sparks, of the Macon Construction company, has gone to New York on an important business trip, which may pertain to the building of the Macon and Atlantic railway, mention of which was made in the CONSTITUTION today.

The carpenters' union of this city has engaged Rev. J. J. Hyman to preach a sermon to them at the South Macon Baptist church on Sunday next.

Bob Hill, who was convicted yesterday at Warrenton of the murder of Mr. Rogers, was brought back to the Bibb jail today for safe keeping until the day of his execution, May 8th next.

The Hotel Lanier will be headquarters for the delegates to the state pharmaceutical convention, which assembles in Macon next week.

Mr. E. H. Dottenheim has returned from New York, where he went to have a difficult operation performed at Mount Sinai hospital, some months ago. In Cincinnati Mr. Dottenheim slipped and fell on a banana peel and was severely injured in the back and spine, and was confined to his bed a long while and to the use of his crutches. He returns from New York greatly improved and can now walk with the use of a stick.

Rev. Mr. Needham is conducting a successful series of meetings at the First Baptist church. This week he lectures on the resurection, the second coming of Christ, the return of the Jewish nation to power, and Christ's reign upon earth. Mr. Needham is about fifty years old and he thinks that he will live to see the second coming of Christ.

On April 28th the grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons, and the grand council meet at Macon.

The people of Macon anticipate with much pleasure the visit and lecture of Hon. Henry Watterson at the Academy of Music, April 28th. He lectures on "Money and Morals."

Yesterday the foremen of the different departments of the East Tennessee railway shops in Atlanta came to Macon and presented an elegant solitaire diamond ring to Mr. C. F. Thomas, master mechanic of the Central road at Macon, who formerly held the same position with the East Tennessee road at Atlanta.

The telephone company now occupies rented apartments in this city. Since the company has made Macon headquarters for this division, the offices having been moved from Charleston, the company wishes to buy a building for its headquarters. Negotiations are now pending with this end in view. Macon has been made one of the most important telephone points in the south.

Mr. Henry Horne is nothing if not public spirited and enterprising. He states that he is willing to be one of a number to contribute $1,000 cash to the purchase of the warehouse property of W. B. and O. G. Sparks and give the site to anyone who will erect a handsome hotel thereon. He thinks the corner of Third and Poplar streets, where now stands the warehouse, would be a splendid place for the hotel.

Awoke in the Fire.

EASTMAN, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—The nine year old daughter of Mr. Ben Lewis, who lives in Laurens county, was helping her father burn brush in the field. Mr. Lewis left her alone and she fell asleep near a brush heap and her clothes caught fire and she was terribly burned from her shoulders to her ankles. She awoke and her cries brought her mother to the rescue who extinguished the flames with a bucket of water. Dr. Fisher, who is attending her, thinks it very doubtful whether she can live.

Dead from Apoplexy.

ATHENS, GA., April 9.—[Special]—An old negro man, named Tom Collins, fell dead, this morning, near the store of Hodges Bros. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from apoplexy.

Physicians Wise in Their Generation.

The above class of scientists recognize, and have repeatedly borne testimony, to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy and preventive of fever and ague, rheumatism, want of vigor, liver complaint, and some other ailments and infirm conditions of the system. Experience and observation have taught them its value. They but echo the verdict long since pronounced by the public and the press. THE SUPREME DICTATOR

WILL REACH ATLANTA THIS EVENING LATE,

And Will Be Received by the Knights of Honor of Atlanta—How He Will Be Entertained While Here.

The grand lodge of the Knights of Honor of Georgia convened yesterday and adjourn this afternoon.

A party of Knights, including Supreme Dictator Savage will arrive in Atlanta at 6:40 this afternoon.

The supreme dictator passed through Atlanta yesterday, arriving from Tallapoosa at 2 p. m. and leaving at 3:45 p. m., with Supreme Representatives Shannon and Nesbitt, of Elberton; Supreme Trustee Bacon, and Grand Reporter Edward Elder.

It is expected that this party, together with all the Atlanta representatives in the grand lodge, and a large number of visiting knights, will come in together this evening.

The Atlanta Knights of Honor will be out in full force to give the visitors a royal welcome.

The Atlanta lodges meet at seven o'clock at the Gate City lodge, corner of Broad and Alabama streets.

A committee will meet the party from Canton and escort them to the Kimball, where a line will be formed. From here the visitors will march to the lodge room and be given a formal reception.

A full attendance of the local knights is urged, and the lodges from neighboring towns are extended a cordial invitation to be present. The hall is being handsomely decorated for the occasion. Refreshments are to be provided, and the reception will be a notable event.

A number of speeches are to be made, some candidates initiated, the formal programme terminating in an informal re-union.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING.

A Board of Officers Elected—Dr. Lee's Address.

The twenty-fourth annual convention of the Fulton County Sunday School association convened at the Hunter Street Christian church yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

The auditorium was well filled with earnest Sunday school workers.

A large number of the leading pastors of the city churches were in attendance, giving the aid of their presence and sympathy to the good work.

The secretary, J. C. Kimball, called the meeting to order, and as the president was out of the city, W. S. Bell, vice-president, was called to the chair. After the various reports and routine work, Rev. J. W. Lee, D. D., was introduced and delivered the annual address. His subject was "Evolution of a Gentleman." The address was a marvel of eloquence and beauty, and held the closest attention of the audience for forty minutes.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the unanimous election of the following ticket:

President—A. B. Carrier.
First vice-president—W. S. Bell.
Second vice-president—Thomas Moore.
Third vice-president—A. C. Briscoe.
Fourth vice-president—J. M. Liddell.
Fifth vice-president—J. P. Austin.
Sixth vice-president—Charles G. Eckford.
Seventh vice-president—John Howell.
Eighth vice-president—T. J. Day.
Ninth vice-president—R. L. Rogers.
Tenth vice-president—J. J. Carpenter.
Secretary—J. C. Kimball.
Treasurer—W. P. Parkhurst.
Marshal—R. L. Barry.
Chorister—Professor J. A. Lyon.
Organist—Mrs. Head.
Executive Committee—E. M. Roberts, chairman, Edwin Kingsbury, Talbot Strickland, Alex W. Bealer, R. L. Rushton.

After short talks by a number of persons, the convention adjourned. The meetings for the coming year will, by invitations, be held at the Church of the Redeemer. This association is doing a great work in the county and deserves the co-operation of all Christian people.

Memorial Day in LaGrange.

LAGRANGE, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—Captain S. P. Gilbert, of Columbus, has consented to deliver the address on April 30th, the day set apart by our ladies to commemorate the confederate dead. The procession will form promptly at 2 o'clock p. m., and march to the soldiers' cemetery, where the memorial exercises will take place. The local military companies, the confederate veterans, the pupils and teachers of the colleges, the high schools and all the schools in the city, are cordially invited to unite with the procession. The ladies who are members of the association, and all who wish to join it, are requested to meet at Mrs. Gay's residence, at 4 o'clock p. m., on Friday afternoon of this week.

Humors run riot in the blood in the spring months, and can be reached then better than at any other time. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purifier. Take it this spring.

ATLANTA, GA., APRIL 10, 1890.

The Grady Hospital.

The committee appointed to secure a site for the Grady hospital having finished its work, it may be announced that the institution is now a certainty, and that it will perpetuate the name of Atlanta's beloved citizen. The site selected is a good one, and fully meets the approval of THE CONSTITUTION.

The movement for the hospital owes its life to Hon. Joseph Hirsch. In and out of season he has worked for its establishment. His name must ever live among the most cherished of Atlanta's devoted sons.

The action of Colonel L. P. Grant, in selling the site at a figure fully five thousand dollars below its value, and then increasing his donation by one thousand dollars, emphasizes the many gifts he has already given and sets an example to other rich men. Thirty thousand dollars are yet needed, and it is to be hoped that generous citizens will soon fill out the blank.

The names of Hirsch and Grant will live as long as the hospital lasts, to tell of good citizens who have performed their duty.

Stock Raising in Georgia.

We endeavored to show some time ago that the farmers of Georgia could save money by raising their own horses and mules, and cited the success of Putnam, Hancock and Morgan in this business, as examples.

The experiment has been made in Lee county, Mississippi, where the conditions are perhaps not so favorable as they are in Georgia. A correspondent—Mr. A. G. Harkreader, writes us that he moved to Mississippi from middle Tennessee twenty years ago. Since that time he has been running six or eight farms, mostly in cotton. His home farm, however, has been managed as a stock farm. He has raised jacks, jennettes, and some mules. The result is, that Lee county, instead of buying mules at an expense of twenty or thirty thousand dollars annually, has raised a surplus every year for the past five or six years. Last fall, Captain Felix Arnold, of that county, shipped a car load of fine mules to the Mississippi bottoms. These mules, our correspondent says, were as fine as any that come from Kentucky or Tennessee.

Mr. Harkreader says that he has made more clear money off of twelve fine Kentucky jennettes and six brood mares, raising jacks and mules, than he has on all his farms cultivated in cotton. On account of the mild and short winters in Mississippi, and the comparative cheapness in land, our correspondent says he can carry on the stock raising business much more profitably than in Kentucky and Tennessee. The prices are better in Mississippi, and the cost of raising not so much. Freight and other contingent expenses are saved, the stock have no acclimatization to undergo, and can endure more hard work at the same age.

All these conditions apply to Georgia as well as to Mississippi. There is no reason why every farmer in the state should not raise his own stock and two or three surplus colts, either horses or mules, for sale. Every farmer must have stock with which to cultivate his land. One, two, three, or a half dozen brood mares will do the slow work of the farm as easily as mules, and give the farmer a profit in colts besides. There is no theory in this. Georgia can raise as fine mules and horses as Kentucky or Tennessee. This fact has been demonstrated over and over again, and hundreds of farmers in middle Georgia are setting an example in this direction that the rest of the farmers must follow, sooner or later. Motives of economy will compel them to save money that they are now sending west, in exchange for mules and horses that could be raised at home at a cost merely nominal.

Facts About Negro Emigration.

Referring to the emigration of negroes from North Carolina, an exchange thinks it is a curious fact that when they are fairly settled in another state they become dissatisfied and evince a desire to return, and do return eventually. Especially is this the case if in their new homes they are not at once successful in business; they are generally induced to emigrate by tempting offers of money and the promise of immediate prosperity; when they discover that they have been deceived, they are, of course, dissatisfied, and those who are able invariably return to their deserted homes, while the impoverished ones, forced to remain, begin life anew under the most depressing circumstances.

A correspondent of the New York Sun, writing from Weldon, North Carolina, very truly says that every great movement of the negroes in seeking to better their material condition by emigration has resulted disastrously, as for example the exodus into Kansas, ten years ago, when the government had to come to the rescue of the starving negroes; and then, later on, their experiences in Arkansas and Texas, and now, last of all scarcely have the negro emigrants from North Carolina landed in the Mississippi region, before they are demoralized by an overflow which will prevent them from making crops this season. The result is, these negroes are now making pitiful appeals to their friends at home for money to return.

But the emigrant agents are still at work in North Carolina, and despite the unfavorable tidings from their friends, over four hundred negroes are now waiting for free transportation to another state.

They will never learn wisdom except by sad experience. The whites have more feeling for them than they have for themselves, and in view of the recent disasters which have befallen those who emigrated, steps are being taken by the citizens of several North Carolina towns to keep the negroes at home and make the business of the emigrant agent an unprofitable one in their communities; in fact, they have boycotted the agents and make the state too hot to hold them.

If it was not for the pity of the thing, it would be wise to let the negroes go—to offer them no inducements to remain; but their going not only retards the business of a section for a time, but eventually becomes a tax upon their friends, who are called upon to assist them when they become dissatisfied, as they always do, and are ready to return.

Dismissed With Contempt.

The Macon Telegraph makes a weak reply to THE CONSTITUTION'S plain talk to it concerning its miserably transparent effort to vent its spleen against a more successful contemporary by ambuscading behind Buck.

The gist of its answer to our remarks is that THE CONSTITUTION ruffled its tender sensibilities by the emphasis of our words, and yet did not affirm "that it did not enter into negotiations with the leader of the republican party in Georgia, who was endeavoring to induce it to 'come gradually to the support of the republican administration.'"

The Telegraph is blind, or else it does not want to see. We stated as pointedly as words could express that Buck was a liar if he made any such statement, and intimated in terms so plain as to be almost assertive that the Telegraph was likewise. But, to be more exact, here are our words:

> We respectfully submit that this course is better than to slink around among republican "bosses," hunting up lies that take twenty months to hatch, for the purpose of giving vent to pent up spleen, engendered by unsuccessful competition.

As this denial is not sufficiently plain for the Telegraph, we now state that any intimation that Buck's statement has a spark of truth in it is a willful and deliberate falsehood.

The Telegraph further says of the motive of its attack on THE CONSTITUTION:

> It has not taken "every occasion to vent its spleen against THE CONSTITUTION," and close examination of its columns will show, we think, that the name of that paper has not for many months appeared in them. The Telegraph never handles such subjects, except when compelled to do so by the imperative demands of public duty.

If the Telegraph has avoided any mention of the name of THE CONSTITUTION in its columns, it was prompted to this course, probably, by the policy of its proprietor, who, several months ago, instructed the Atlanta correspondent of the Savannah News never to use the name of Mr. Grady in his correspondence, and who makes it a point to carefully omit any reference to THE CONSTITUTION from the columns of the News. Indeed, so fixed is he in this policy that the News constantly steals whatever news it can find in THE CONSTITUTION, without making the customary credit, to which we are entitled.

"Mr. Grady is dead, and we have nothing but good to speak of him," says the Telegraph, after denouncing THE CONSTITUTION'S indorsement of Mr. Grady's invitation to Major McKinley to speak at the Chautauqua, with many other distinguished speakers. And yet, while Mr. Grady lived, he was under the ban of the proprietor of the News and the Telegraph.

But we have not the time nor space to bandy words with this journalistic smoothbore, which is doing its utmost to disrupt the harmony and unity of the democratic party. We dismiss it with contempt.

Concerning Forests.

A recent writer presents some interesting points connected with the subject of forestry.

In the earliest times the first peoples of whom we have any historic account dwelt in the Asiatic highlands. That region in those days was very fertile, and was able to support a large population. It was well wooded, but in time the trees disappeared, and the land became almost barren, and great changes in climate took place. Coming down to a later period, we have abundant evidence of the climatic changes wrought by the destruction of the forests. The old historians tell us how great armies crossed the Rhone, Rhine and Danube on the ice, but after fifteen centuries it is plain that the climate in the vicinity of those rivers is materially warmer.

Our civilization is not old enough in this country to enable us to see the influence of forests upon the climate. But it is fair to assume that the precipitation of rain and snow is much less in a treeless region.

Snow and ice remain longer in a forest country, and delay the advent of spring.

When the trees disappear the climate becomes more erratic. The winters are short, but the weather is fitful. Cold winds and hot winds blow unexpectedly, and drought is not uncommon. Water courses shrink at times to mere threads, and at others swell into the most appalling floods.

These general facts, according to the writer whose statements we have here outlined, are enough to awaken the people to the importance of the preservation of a large percentage of our forests. The wholesale and reckless waste of nature's upholstering, means the destruction of human life and property. When we are warned against a coming evil we should lose no time in discovering and applying the remedy.

To a Correspondent.

A correspondent, writing from New York, suggests that the recent letters in the world relative to the convict system, together with the present attitude of that paper, which is snapping and sneering at everything Georgian, is calculated to hurt the state in various directions.

We think, however, that our correspondent need not worry himself about the effect that the so-called exposures of the World will have on Georgia. The chain-gang system is a republican invention, and there has never been any defense of its possible abuses. Like other penal systems, it is far from perfect in its operations, but its abuses are no greater in the aggregate and no more difficult of correction than those of other systems. That it is probably not the best system is generally conceded even by those who think that it is good enough until a better can be found.

The so-called exposure of the World, with one exception, amounts to a republication of charges that have already been advertised and discussed in Georgia with a view to reforming the abuses on which they were based. There is nothing new in the matter whatever. It has all been gone over pro and con, (as the old man said,) in the legislature and in the newspapers. The exception in the World's publication to which we have alluded is the report of an interview with an ex-convict. This convict is a white man, who is under the impression that he was hounded down and put in the chain-gang for nothing. He had merely killed a man, and the idea that he should be compelled to work in the chain-gang on account of this indiscretion was somewhat obnoxious.

The only question is, was this ex-convict an impartial witness? Would he be likely to approve of treatment that was intended by the law to punish him for his crime? Our own opinion is that the ex-convict's testimony is not worth the paper on which it is written. So far as the Georgia convict system is concerned, we are free to say that it cannot be reformed by the World, one of whose reporters is now in jail for an attempt to feed the sensational appetites of the readers of that journal. That reforms are to be made, the remedies to be applied, must depend on a public sentiment that is far beyond and above the World and its vicious sensationalism.

Shakspeare's Descendants in America.

It is the common impression in England that the family of William Shakspeare is extinct.

Quite recently the discovery is said to have been made that Shakspeare's descendant's are in America. The poet's daughter, Sasanna, married Dr. Hall. The daughter of this couple married another Hall, and moved to Connecticut, where they settled in Fairfield, now Bridgeport. They left two sons and daughters whose descendants are presumably numerous.

These facts started in a late number of the London Truth will be of interest to all admirers of the immortal bard. One of the family, Mary C. Hall Baldwin, of Chicago, is now preparing a little work which will make it clearly appear that Shakspeare was her lineal ancestor.

The Suicide Club.

There is only one "Suicide Club" in the country, and it is to be hoped that there will never be another.

About four years ago five citizens of Bridgeport, Connecticut, met one day, and feeling rather low-spirited, they adopted a jesting suggestion and organized a suicide club.

It was agreed that one member should kill himself that year, another the next, and so on until the last man was gone. The compact was faithfully kept, and last January at the annual meeting only two were left, the president and the secretary.

Unfortunately, a little unpleasantness occurred at this meeting. The president suggested that the secretary should step off next, and the scribe argued that the president was the man to go. Finally, they agreed to admit a new member, and had great hopes of persuading a Mr. Maybery to join. But Maybery cut his throat one morning before he had been made a member, and bequeathed his handsome silk umbrella to Secretary Baum.

The secretary was gloomy enough before, but the umbrella seemed to cast a spell over him. He regarded himself as a doomed man. Last Monday, after selling his property and turning the money over to his wife, Baum sent his umbrella to the president of the club, and then cut his throat.

The president is now the only survivor of the five original members of the club, and the people of Bridgeport are confident that before another year rolls around he will keep his oath and destroy himself.

In all the history of morbid mentality there is nothing stranger than this four years' record of a club of self-murderers in a quiet and God-fearing New England town—a town whose Puritan traditions and environment are antagonistic to anything so uncanny and blood-curdling. The whole business reads like one of Edgar Allan Poe's horrible stories.

UP to date, Brer Estill is the only democrat in Georgia that pretends to believe anything that Buck says.

DR. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES attends baseball in Boston. This shows that a man can be a poet and a genuine American at the same time.

THE republicans should endeavor to reform their brethren in Rowan county, Kentucky.

THE following we clip from the Buck-Estill-iSavannah-Macon Telegraph. It shows how Buck is using his organ to help the democratic party of Georgia: "The Augusta Chronicle has been visited with a swift and terrible punishment for its advocacy of protection. It has drawn down upon itself the commendation of the New York Sun. The approval of the Sun is almost infallible evidence of an adulterated article of democracy."

IN the poor house of Cook county, Illinois, there are fifty union soldiers. This is a remarkable record.

THE shark that swallowed Quay's tarpon, instead of Quay himself, evidently knew the strength of its own stomach.

JOHN WANAMAKER is in a position where he can run the customhouse officers to their holes. Thus the bargain counter is safe.

MARCHING THROUGH GEORGIA

The Rome Tribune has a column headed "The Lounger." That word has no business in a newspaper office. "The Hustler" is the thing.

A Georgia editor who lives in a dry town says: "Some thoughtful friend has sent us a jug of juicy 'mountain dew;' but as our printer is sick, we will not be able to do it full justice before next week. A man can't set type and enjoy life at the same time."

Editor Anderson, of the Covington Star, set a good example in building that railroad. Three Georgia editors have declared that they will follow suit, if they have to pay for the roads themselves.

Editor Graves sets at rest the rumor of his resignation as editor of the Tribune, and the purchase of the paper by Mr. Victor Smith. Mr. Smith made an offer to the stockholders, but it was declined. Mr. Graves is still in charge, and it may be remarked that he is making himself felt in the columns of the Tribune. It now ranks with the best and brightest dailies in the state.

Editor Hanlon, of the Quitman Press, owns a Texas pony that can climb a tree. He is now offering him as a prize to the largest number of delinquent subscribers that will settle up in full before Christmas. It is his way of getting revenge on them.

The New England City Record is the name of a new paper published at "New England City," Dade county. It is an eight page, six column, and as its name indicates, it will be a "record" of the events, the progress and thought of this brightest little city of the south. There is northern brains and brawn behind it, and as an advertising medium for Dade county and the south, it will be invaluable. It is newsy all the way through. Charles F. Eddy is editor and Frank W. Stiles business manager.

CONFEDERATE DEAD.

THE JOHNSON ISLAND GRAVES WILL BE MARKED.

The Marble Tomb Stones Have Gone North, and Will Soon Be In Position.

Colonel John O. Waddell, assistant secretary of agriculture, has been for some time quite active in securing the tomb stones which will be placed over the confederate dead in Johnson's island.

Several letters have been received from neighboring states asking permission to take part in the work, and place tomb stones over the dead of their respective states. Colonel Waddell wishes it understood that Georgia, in taking care of her own heroes, has done the same for those of all the states, and the tomb stones which have already gone north will mark the grave of every dead soldier on Johnson's island, no matter where he came from or in what regiment he fought.

Colonel Waddell has received the following letter from Mr. J. T. Mack, editor of the Register, of Sandusky, Ohio, which shows that provision will be made for the reception of the toomb stones, and for their being placed in position.

The letter says:

SANDUSKY, O., April 3, 1890. Colonel John O. Waddell, Atlanta: My Dear Sir—Your letters of the 25th ultimo and 1st instant came to hand, the latter this morning. My personal interest in the undertaking and the spirit underlying it, as well as my personal esteem for the gentlemen who started it and have carried it forward, and whom it was my privilege to meet last September, would not permit me to refuse to be of any service within my power in completing the undertaking. I will see that the head stones, on arrival here, are transported across our beautiful bay to Johnson's island and well placed in position at their respective graves. I will finish the plat and list of the cemetery that I have, as published last fall, and see that the work is thoroughly done. As you will see from enclosed clippings from the Register we had already been advised of shipment. They should arrive the last of this week. I will see our local marble firms and if I can get the work done for less than the price quoted to you, will do so and report to you. In the meantime let me retain the letters you sent till arrival of the head stones. Mr. Christ Schlenk is a thoroughly responsible man and responsible every way. With personal best wishes for yourself, I am sincerely yours,

JOHN T. MACK.

One of the Best Ever Issued.

From the Gwinnett, Ga., Herald.

THE CONSTITUTION'S edition last Sunday contained thirty-two pages, and was one of the best papers ever issued from that office. This paper has taken on new life recently, and its circulation and business is increasing with gratifying rapidity. After looking over this issue we concluded they had a right to crow.

POLITICS IN THE STATE.

—Mr. A. J. Bond, at the solicitation of many friends, announces that he will be a candidate for representative from Elbert.

—Rev. E. B. Higginbotham and Mr. Thomas S. Gaines are in the race for the office of tax collector of Elbert county.

—Carnesville Enterprise: Rev. John G. Gibson, of Oglethorpe, is spoken of as a candidate from this district for congress. Dr. Carlton is said to favor him as his successor.

—Lawrenceville Herald: We do not mean to say that your uncle Tom Hardeman is the only man in the state who can fit the pattern we have drawn, but we do say that Georgia would honor herself by making him her next governor.

Greensboro Herald-Journal: Numbers of the friends of Hon. John C. Hart have been urging upon him that he again make the race for the legislature the coming fall. Captain Hart, while appreciating the kindness of his friends, announces positively that under no conditions will he allow his name to be used. He says he is out of politics, at least for several years to come. His law practice has grown to such a degree as to demand almost his undivided time and attention, and he is also engaged upon several railroad and other business enterprises, which, should he remain in politics, would undoubtedly suffer.

This decision on the part of Captain Hart, will be regretted by our people, although at the same time they fully appreciate the fact that he is the best judge of his own interests. He served the people faithfully and well through two sessions of the legislature, and it is not too much to say that no man occupied a higher position or commanded, in a greater degree, the confidence and esteem of his fellow-members. His record before the people has been a bright one. Captain Hart was upon the ticket when the democracy first carried Greene county, after the days of independentism, and it was largely through his conservative methods that warring elements in the democratic party were reunited. His nomination in the last race was a strong compliment to him as a man and to his record as a representative. He led the ticket, and was nominated, we believe, without an opposing vote.

With this record, and the knowledge of having fulfilled his promises faithfully and well, Captain Hart can afford to temporarily retire from the political arena. Having served the people well, it is but right that some few years be given him to represent his own and other material interests. In a few years the people will again call him, and we know he will respond when he feels their interests demand his services.

The Whole South Proud of It.

From the Douglasville, Ga., New South.

Last Sunday's CONSTITUTION was a mammoth book of thirty-two pages, abounding in all the world's news and an endless variety of other attractive reading matter. The whole south is justly proud of Georgia's CONSTITUTION.

GEORGIA NEWS.

—The colored teachers of the state will meet in convention at Americus on the 30th inst.

—Two hundred and six marble tombstones were shipped from the Marietta Marble works last week to Johnson's island to mark the graves of the confederate prisoners who died there. The slabs are of Pickens county marble, and tastefully gotten up.

—There will be a meeting of citizens of Forsyth and surrounding country at the courthouse, on Friday evening next, at 3 o'clock, to consider the question of organizing a fruit growers' association.

—The citizens of Milton county are talking of holding a county fair next fall.

—Wyatt Williams, living near Buchanan, was badly cut by a Mr. Lee, on last Thursday. Mr. Williams's wounds are considered dangerous.

—Mr. R. L. Spencer, general manager of the Tallapoosa Land company, has been in Louisville and Chicago, during the past week, perfecting arrangements for a general excursion from all the important cities as far west as Denver, Col. All railroads will sell, on April 22, tickets for one fare round trip to Tallapoosa and return, good for thirty days.

—The directors of the Carnesville railroad met Saturday evening, the 5th instant. A committee was appointed to confer with the Richmond and Danville authorities, without delay, to find out, promptly and definitely, what part that company is willing to do in completing the road.

—There has been serious trouble at the State university among the students. Bad blood has led to numerous fights, and the chancellor has expelled one student, and suspended another for thirty days.

—Covington has raised $25,000, and put the money in bank, to induce Colonel Machen to build a railroad from Eastman to that city. He wants to secure a connection with the Marietta and North Georgia, if possible.

—Mr. John Mahaffy, who lives near Lawrenceville, had his foot nearly severed with an ax last week. He and another gentleman were engaged in cutting down a tree, one on the opposite side of the other. The "other fellow" missed the tree and hit Mr. Mahaffy's foot instead, with serious results.

We Scooped Them All.

From the Americus Daily Times.

By the way, THE CONSTITUTION scooped the state on the question of whether or not Mr. Depew used the language attributed to him in the interview in the Washington Post. THE CONSTITUTION was the only paper in the state that had his denial in Sunday's paper.

GENERAL SOUTHERN NEWS.

—Mr. C. F. Folk, of Ruth, Forsyth county, N. C., is anxious to obtain information of the whereabouts of his brother, John Folk, who was last heard of in Salem, Ala., twenty years ago.

—Alfred Jurney, of Iredell county, N. C., has been found over to the federal court under the charge of counterfeiting.

—D. A. Saunders, who runs a railroad camp on the Helena branch of the Birmingham Mineral, near the Cahaba river, in Bibb county, has captured Charley Poe and Clark Scott, two negro desperados. Poe is wanted in Birmingham for shooting Policeman Tate with a Winchester rifle at Bessemer a week ago. The rifle with which he did his deadly work was taken from him when captured. Scott is wanted for complicity in the crime. They were both taken back to Bessemer and lodged in jail. They have been identified as the guilty parties.

—A very important and interesting movement is now under consideration by the colored people of Charleston. Behind the movement are such responsible, wealthy and progressive citizens that there is every warrant for the statement that the undertaking will bring about a material result. It is proposed to hold an industrial fair for Charleston county. It has been quietly discussed for some time. The colored people are anxious to know what material advancement has been made by their race in Charleston county, industrially, socially, agriculturally, and in fact along all the lines of human progress. For this reason there will be gathered, not only the various elements of a fair, but statistics of a peculiarly interesting character.

—A movement is on foot to establish a post-office at Morgantown, Tennessee, with James Morgan as postmaster. The citizens of that large suburb are circulating a petition which is being rapidly filled out, and will be forwarded to Postmaster General Wanamaker in a few days.

—C. W. Simpson, editor of the Fisher County, Star, was jailed at San Antonio, Tex., on a charge of sending obscene letters through the mail.

—One of the Nashville electric cars caught fire Saturday afternoon while crossing a bridge. The fire was caused by the breaking of the motor box under the car. The dragging of the sheet iron lid caused the connection with the rails and the wood work caught fire. The car was damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars. The passengers left the car at the first alarm.

—The city council of the city of Austin has decided to submit the matter of daming the Colorado to a vote of the citizens of that town, and the election is set for May 5th.

—The prohibition state executive committee of Tennesiee has been called to meet in Nashville Thursday, April 17th, to fix the time and place for holding a state convention to nominate a candidate for governor.

—Near Selma, about two weeks ago, old man Mundy Bell died suddenly, while at work in the field, and on last Friday his wife died. On either Saturday or Sunday, four of their children were dosed with morphine, which their young son thought was quinine. Two of them died Sunday, and the others were not expected to recover at that time.

—The Tennessee democratic convention to nominate a candidate for governor will be held on the 15th of July.

—John S. Dozier, who lives ten miles southwest of Madison, Fla., made last year, on eleven acres of land, seven bales of sea island cotton, each bale weighing 350 pounds, for which he received twenty-four cents per pound, making $588 on the eleven acres. The seed used were of a fine variety, brought from South Corolina.

—The bronze figure for the confederate monument, soon to be put in place on Capitol Hill, Montgomery, is fifteen feet tall, and weighs six thousand pounds. It is the figure of a woman holding a furled flag in one hand and a sheathed sword in the other, and it represents "Liberty."

—Since 1868 there has grown up in Key West, Fla., a very enterprising and successful manufacture of cigars from Havana tobacco. From a very small beginning, and against great difficulties it has made its way; it turns out about 100,000,000 cigars annually, pays $5,000,000 a year in wages, and supports 25,000 people. It is strictly and necessarily an American industry

THE GRADY HOSPITAL.

THE SITE AGREED UPON, YESTERDAY, AND CONTRACT CLOSED.

The Property Purchased of Colonel L. P. Grant for $13,500—Colonel Grant Donates $1,000 to the Hospital Fund.

The site for the H. W. Grady hospital has been selected.

The selection is a credit to the committee having the matter in charge.

The price agreed upon is $13,500. One thousand dollars of the purchase money is donated to the hospital fund by Colonel L. P. Grant, from whom the property was purchased.

The tract is between Butler, Pratt, College and Jenkins streets, just half a block from Edgewood avenue. It comprises two and seven-eighth acres, beautifully situated.

THE TERMS OF THE SALE.

The committee has been in correspondence with Colonel Grant fer more than two weeks.

Yesterday he submitted to the committee, as a definite proposition, this letter:

NO. 225 HILL STREET, ATLANTA, Ga., April 9, 1890.—Hon. Joseph Hirsch, Chairman of Grady Hospital Committee, Atlanta, Ga—Dear Sir: I agree to sell your committee for a site for the Grady hospital 2⅞ acres of land bounded by Butler, College, Pratt and Jenkins street, in the city of Atlanta, for the sum of $13,500, and to donate to said hospital fund $1,000 out of said purchase money.

I further agree to give ninety days from date for the arrangement of the payment without interest for the deferred time. Yours very truly,

L. P. GRANT.

To this Mr. Hirsch replied:

Colonel L. P. Grant, City—Dear sir: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of this date in which you propose to sell to the Grady hospital committe 2⅞ acres of land bounded by Butler, College, Prat and Jenkins streets in this city for the sum of thirteen thousand five hundred dollars, and to donate to said hospital fund the sum of one thousand dollars out of said purchase money.

The committee cherfully accepts your proposition as to price of the land, and beg to express our most sincere appreciation of your generosity in donating the one thousand dollars. We propose to build a hospital that will be a credit to the sympathetic generosity of the donors and a pride yo every citizen of our city. With high regard tours truly,

JOSEPH HIRSCH, Chairman.

THE DONATION.

The price $13,500 was practically agreed upon before any mention of the donation was made, and was acceptable to the committee.

In fact, it was a very low price for the property, and it would have brought more if put upon the market.

The donation was a free and generous one, and will be remembered as another of the many public-spirited acts of the donor.

THE CORNER-STONE TO BE LAID.

The corner-stone is to be laid just as soon as practicable.

Colonel Milledge was appointed a committee of one to procure the stone and have suitable inscriptions engraved.

THE FINANCIAL STATUS.

The fund now amounts to about $50,000, including the city's appropriation and the Benevolent Home property, with the private subscriptions.

About $30,000 more is needed.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Jacob Elsas, A. W. Calhoun, and H. P. Cooper are in charge of the work of preparing the plans for the building.

Subscriptions addressed to any member of the committee, or to Chairman Joseph Hirsch, will be promptly acknowledged.

"It Fairly Sparkles."

Sunday's CONSTITUTION contained thirty-two pages—Easter edition. Clark Howell and his able writers are making it fairly sparkle.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Confederate Medical Records.

OFFICE OF THE SURGEON-GENERAL OF THE UNITED CONFEDERATE VETERANS, 156 Washington avenue, New Orleans, La., April 9.—To the Survivors of the Medical Corps of the Confederate States Army—Comrades: The surrender of the army of northern Virginia on this day twenty-five years ago practically ended the struggle for the independence of the southern states, and during this quarter of a century death has thined our ranks, and our corps can now oppose but a broken line in the great struggle against human suffering, disease and death.

S. D. Moore, surgeon-general of the confederate army, is dead. Surgeons L. Guild, A. J. Foard, J. H. Berrien, J. T. Darby, W. A. Carrington, F. A. Ramsay, Samuel Choppin, R. J. Breckenridge, E. N. Coney, E. S. Gilliard, E. A. Flewellen, A. N. Tally, Paul F. Eve, O. F. Manson, Louis D. Ford, Habersham, James Bolton, and a host of other medical officers of the confederate states army, are dead.

The association of the United Confederate Veterans was formed in New Orleans in 1889. The objects are historic, social and benevolent.

Our illustrious commanding general, John B. Gordon, governor of Georgia, has ordered the United Confederate Veterans to assemble in Chattanooga on July 2d, 1890. It is earnestly hoped that every surviving member of the medical corps of the confederate army will meet with the United Confederate Veterans upon this important occasion, and promote, by his presence and his councils, the sacred interests of the association of the United Confederate Veterans. It is of the greatest importance to the future historians, and also to the honor and welfare of the medical profession in the south, that careful records should be furnished the surgeon-general of the United Confederate Veterans, embracing the following data:

1. Name, age, nativity and date of commission in the Confederate States army, nature and length of service of each and every member of the medical corps of the Confederate States army.

2. Obituary notices and records of all deceased members of the medical corps of the confederate army.

3. The titles and copies of all field and hospital reports of the medical corps of the confederate army.

4. Titles and copies of all published and unpublished reports relating to military surgery and diseases of armies, camps, hospitals and prisons. The object proposed to be accomplished by the surgeon general of the United Confederate Veterans is the collection, classification, preservation and final publication of all the documents and facts bearing upon the history and labors of the medical corps of the Confederate States' army during the civil war, 1861-1865.

Everything which relates to this critical period of our national history, which shall illustrate the patriotic, self-sacrificing and scientific labors of the medical corps of the Confederate State army, and which shall vindicate the truth of history, should be industriously collected, filed and finally published. It is believed that invaluable documents are scattered over the whole land in the hands of the survivors of the civil war of 1861-1865, which shall form material for correct delineation of the medical history of the corps which played so important a part in the great historic drama.

Death is daily thinning our ranks, whilst time is laying a heavy hand upon the heads of those whose hair is already whitening with the advance of years and the burden of care.

No delay, fellow comrades, should be suffered in the collection and preservation of these precious documents. This task of collection of all documents, cases, facts relating to the medical history of the confederate army, invites the immediate attention and co-operation of his honored comrades and beloved compatriots throughout the south. Respectfully your obedient servant,

JOSEPH JONES, M. D.,
Surgeon General United Confederate Veterans.

Do Not Buy It.

From the Boston Globe.

The friends and admirers of the late Henry W. Grady are being very properly cautioned against the purchase of a Grady memorial volume, put out by a professedly "intimate friend of Mr. Grady," for the purpose of anticipating the publication of the authorized memorial book, and taking its profits away from the Grady family. The true memorial volume, the only one published for the benefit of Mr. Grady's widow and children, contains about 700 pages, is edited by Joel Chandler Harris, and published by Messrs. Cassell & Co. It will be ready about a week hence. The reading public who desire to give Mr. Grady's family the benefit of his memorial volume should be careful not to buy the other.

A Credit to the Country.

WALKER---SNIDER.

THE MOST IMPOSING MARRIAGE OF THE SEASON.

The First Methodist Church Crowded with Friends—The Thornton-Elder Wedding—Other Society News.

One of the most brilliant affairs of the season, and an event which has been eagerly anticipated for many weeks by society people, occurred last night in the marriage of Lieutenant Leverett H. Walker, of the United States army, now stationed at Fort McPherson, and Miss Gertrude Snider, of this city, at the First Methodist church. The church decorations were very handsome; the great organ was outlined in gossamer like garlands, tastooned with loose bunches of ferns and gray moss, which ended in trailing vines and palms. The choir balcony was heavily hung with gray moss ferns and bamboo, and dotted with roses and tiny gilt balls, which gave a most brilliant effect. Just below this was a background of palms and bamboo, against which shone out in bold relief, the center-piece of peach blossom in its dainty hues, while on each side, just a little to the front, was a similar effect in loose branches of dogwood. The decorations were under the supervision of Mrs. Plane, Mrs. Walter Taylor and Mrs. Dessau, and with the brilliant lights, the whole effect was exquisitely artistic. At the appointed hour the ushers, Major Fitten, Dr. Walter Taylor, Captain Dick Rust, Dr. R. B. Ridley, Mr. Eugene Spaulding and Dr. C. T. Brockett marched up the aisles, with the first strains of the Lohengirre wedding march by the barracks band.

The bridegroom, with his best man. Dr. McCall, approached the chancel as the bridal party entered the church by fours, two groomsmen preceding two bridesmaids. The attendants were Miss Jennie Fowler and Lieutenant Kinley, Miss Bessie Beckweith and Lieutenant Bethel, Miss Marsh and Lieutenant Martin, Miss Sallie Brown and Captain Greenough, Miss Clark and Mr. Tom Cobb Jackson and Miss Forcacre and Major Comegys, The bridesmaids looked extremely pretty in their dainty gowns of white china silk, carrying loose clusters of long stemmed Marechal Neil rosebuds tied with white ribbons. Following next came the maid of honor, Miss Hallie Wimberly, who looked unusually well in a gown of white china silk. Her flowers were bride roses. Then the bride entered, leaning upon the arm of her uncle, Colonel J. G. Jones, of Macon. Her beautiful princesse gown was of ivory satin, with front of brocaded crepe, and trimmed in white silk fringe. It was elegantly simple, and very becoming to the sweet girlish face of its wearer, who looked handsomer than ever. She wore no flowers or jewels, but carried an ivory-bound prayer-book, from which the Rev. Dr. Harrison read the impressive service proscribed by the Methodist church. Leaving the church by the left aisle, the bride and groom preceding, and Mrs. Plane and Colonel Jones bringing up the rear, the bridal party, the visiting relatives and friends were driven to the residence of Mrs. E. H. Peters, on Ponce de Leon avenue. The newly married couple received the congratulations of the guests in the library, which was handsomely decorated in bride roses, and huge jars of Easter lilies. In the pretty square hall the floral decorations were of potted plants and lilies. The supper room was beautifully decorated in ferns and lilies, while the round table had for its center piece a large star in Easter lilies against a background of maiden hair fern, an exquisite design. The damask cloth was caught up with hyacinths and ferns. In its dainty decorations it was a perfect symphony. Much of the handsome decorations of cakes was done by Miss Helen Prescott. After the reception, the young couple left for an extended tour of the north and west, followed by the loving congratulations of a host of friends. Miss Snider has endeared herself to Atlanta people from her earliest childhood, among whom she has been and will always be a marked favorite. In the acquisition of Lieutenant Walker, society has been very fortunate, since he has formed many warm friends in the few months of his residence at the post.

A very pretty, quiet home wedding occurred at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of Captain W. R. Elder, on Houston street, in the marriage of his daughter, Emma Olelia, to Mr. James R. Thornton. The brief and impressive service was performed by the Rev. D. McDonald, of the Second Baptist church, and the young couple left immediately for a sojourn of several weeks in Florida, stopping on their return to visit relatives in Dawson, Ga. As Miss Elder, the bride had been such a universal favorite that her many friends rejoice that this marriage will not separate her from them. Mr. Thornton is very favorably known among Atlanta people, being a member of the firm of Thornton & Grubb.

⁂

Mrs. Joe Hirsch and daughter, Lela, will leave Saturday evening for an extensive eastern trip. They will be absent for a month, and will visit New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington and Richmond, Va.

⁂

Mr. H. B. Shelton and his sister, Miss Janie, left yesterday for a visit to Salt Springs, Ga.

⁂

The cotillion will have its first after Lent german at the Kimball Monday evening.

⁂

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Jackson, of Nashville, Tenn., arrived in the city yesterday to spend a few days.

⁂

The many friends of Mr. George I. Walker will be glad to know that he is recovering from his sickness and will be out in a few days.

⁂

Invitations are out for the marriage of Miss Mamie Beal, the lovely and accomplished daughter of Mr. George Beal, of Washington, Ga., and Mr. Charlie C. Robinson, the influential young merchant of Social Circle. The wedding will occur at the palatial home of Hon. E. Y. Hill, Wednesday morning, April 16th.

⁂

The musicale that was to have been given by the young ladies of the Red Cross at the residence of Mr. A. H. Locke has been postponed until next week owing to the sickness of some of those who were to take part.

⁂

There will be a candy-pulling at the ladies' fair, now in progress in the Centennial building, between 3 and 5 o'clock Friday evening. All the children of the city are invited to attend.

⁂

⁂

The Nine O'clock club will give its first post-Lenten german at the Kimball tonight. It will be a most delightful affair, and will be the last of the season.

THE BIG TANK.

How the Great Volume of Water in "A Dark Secret" is Managed.

The final performance of the Dark Secret was given last night at the opera hense, and although the scenery had to be shpped to Birmingham by the midnight train, there was no hurry perceptable and the play moved smoothly along to its end without a hitch.

To move the scenery, and especially the tank which is used in the play, is an undertaking of more than ordinary difficulty. The tank, which forms such an important feature in the drama, and which excites so much interest, is a masterpiece of ingenuity.

When the inventor determined to introduce a large body of water upon the stage, he left precedent behind and adopted a new method, entirely his own.

He had constructed the biggest sheet of rubber ever made, which can be attached to a frame erected on any stage.

In order to permit the diving in the rescue scene a trap door is let into the flooring and the rubber is pressed through it in such a way as to make a water tight bag seven feet deep. In the front of the tank large panels of thick glass are inserted in order to show the people that there is no deception and the big volume of water is really there. When everything is prepared the city fire department is called into service and the water is pumped in. As least twice a week it is all emptied out again in order to keep it clear of dirt. The water is emptied by introducing the fire hose into an aperture made for the purpose, and allowing it to run out. In moving, the rubber sheet is stretched out, carefully dried and then rolled up and placed in a long, narrow box which is constructed for the purpose.

The play of a Dark Secret is intensely interesting of itself, and with the tank it forms one of the strongest and best attractions on the road.

THE LADIES' FAIR.

The Second Night an Improvement on the First.

Last night was a successful one at the ladies' fair, which opened Tuesday evening in the Centennial hall.

A large crowd was out to enjoy the music, the dancing and the various other attractions served up by the ladies in charge.

The raffles are well under way, and everything moving along at such a pace as is bound to result in a handsome benefit to the object for which the fair is given.

Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Deihl, who have charge of booth No. 1, and who are assisted by a corps of lovely young ladies, are raffling off a number of elegant presents.

Among the donations of this booth are a velvet carpet from Stephen A. Ryan, a silver water pitcher by Bollman, a silver fruit stand from A. F. Pickert, dress pattern by John Ryan, a bisque statue by M. Rich and a handsome plush rocking chair by P. H. Snook.

Chances on all these are being taken rapidly, as well as on a hundred and one other beautiful articles.

Mrs. Govan and Mrs. Sullivan, in charge of the refreshment stand, are making that feature one of the successes of the fair.

Mrs. Hastings and Mrs. McMahon have charge of table No. 3. They have a lot of handsome and useful articles to be disposed of, which they are doing right rapidly.

Two little girls, Miss May Doyle and Miss May Honlon, are making a lively contest for a pair of ear-rings, and Mr. John Peel and Mr. Jim Lynch are following su it in a race for an elegant gold watch.

The dancing last night was enjoyed by a large crowd.

THE ANDERSON CASE.

Not Tried on the Carrollton Charge, But Dismissed for Non-Appearance.

The case against Patrolman Anderson was not tried on its merits by the board of police commissioners, but he was dismissed from the force because he refused to appear to answer the charges against him. A gentleman who was present at the trial, sends the following statement, which we publish with pleasure:

"THE CONSTITUTION'S news report of the meeting of the police board shows that Patrolman Anderson was dismissed from the force because he did not appear to answer the charges against him, and this is the exact truth. I was present at the meeting because I felt a natural interest in the ditposition of the case and I give you here an account of the proceedings which will be verified, I doubt not, by every member of the board. The case was mentioned by Chairman, English and Chief Connolly started to produce the charges. Patrolman Anderson was called and did not respond. His attorney, John Clay Smith, presented his resignation of the position of patrolman. Commissioner Brown moved to accept it. Commissioner Lester said it was contrary to the practice of the board to accept resignations from officers under charges. After some discussion the resignation was put to vote and not accepted. Commissioner Brown only voting to accept it. Then Mr. Smith asked for time. It was mentioned by some of the board that besides the charge as to misconduct in Carroll county there were further charges against Patrolman Anderson—one for intoxication, and the other for an alleged assault upon Mr. Fitts—but that these had not been served, because the patrolman could not be found. Chairman English thought it would be unfair to the witnesses from a distance to postpone the hearing. This seemed to be the sense of the board. Secretary Stephens thought the resignation amounted to a plea of guilty. Mr. Smith explained that it was not so intended, and other members of the board disagreed with the secretary as to that matter. Mr. Smith expressed a willingness to have the trial proceed and the witnesses make affidavits or be orally examined, although the defendant was absent. The board would not do that, and finally made an order dismissing the defendant for not appearing to answer the charges against him.

"So you will see that no charges against him were considered by the board upon the merits, and that the alleged assault cut no figure in the proceedings at all. It is important to the defendant that the trial of that alleged assault before a jury be not prejudiced by a statement like that in today's paper, it assuming that the police board had heard evidence and adjudged him guilty of misconduct with reference to that matter."

FROM OUR NOTEBOOKS.

A Beautiful Umbrella.—When the Atlanta Hibernians observed St. Patrick's day last, Rev. Father Shadwell made the society a beautiful and feeling talk. Yesterday the Hibernians purchased a handsome silk, gold-headed umbrella, and designated Hon. Timothy Burk, Mr. Steve Grady and Professor J. D. Caldon as a committee to deliver it. The gentlemen called at the parsonage and handed over the souvenir. Father Shadwell was greatly surprised, but none the less delighted. The present is a beautiful one. On the heavy gold handle is engraved, "Rev. Father Shadwell, from Hibernian society, Atlanta, March 17, 1890.'

Recorder Kontz.—Judge Ernest Kontz was admitted yesterday to practice law in the United States courts.

From Pickens County.—Deputy Marshal W. L. Cate brought in a prisoner from Pickens county yesterday, William Brannan, charged with violation of the revenue law.

Railroad Personals.—President John D. Williamson, of the Chattanooga, Rome and Columbus, was in Atlanta yesterday.

General Superintendent I. Y. Sage, of the Georgia Pacific, was in Atlanta yesterday.

Mr. J. T. Hodge, general passenger agent of the Georgia, Southern and Florida, is in Atlanta.

Another Baptist Train.—Captain Fred Bush is engineering another party of Baptist delegates to the Southern convention at Fort Worth.

His train of nine cars leaves here at 9:50 p. m., May 6th and arrives at Fort Worth at 10 a. m., May 8th. The train runs solid on a special schedule. The party is now almost made up—the Maryland delegates in charge of Rev. Dr. Gregory, the Virginia in charge of Rev. Mr. Pitts, the South Carolina of Rev. Dr. Thomas, and the Georgians headed by Rev. Dr. Lansing Burrows, of Augusta.

Sick Bailiffs.—Bailiff J. R. Martin, of the 1234th district, is very ill at his home on Gresham, near Luckie street, with an attack of la grippe.

Bailiff Aaron Cox, of the same district, has just recovered from a severe attack of rheumatism, and is on duty again.

The New Home.—The Elks will hold their next meeting in their new club rooms, Saturday night, when twenty new members will be initiated.

The S. T. A.

Held an important meeting last night at their rooms, No. 11 and 13 Gate City Bank building, and formulated a programme which will be submitted to the mass meeting Saturday night, at which time every drummer is asked to be present. If the committee on new members fail to call on any commercial man let him send his application at once to J. B. Watts, secretary. By so doing he will build up an association that is working day and night for his benefit. Let Atlanta go into the convention five hundred strong.

THEY DRILL TODAY.

THE GEORGIA SOLDIERS DOWN IN JACKSONVILLE.

The Florida State Troops Drilled Yesterday, and the Atlanta Boys to March Upon the Field Today.

The Atlanta soldiers will drill in Jacksonville today.

The Florida campaigners worked yesterday.

Somehow the impression prevailed throughout Atlanta that the Georgia boys would drill Wednesday. But that was wrong as is shown by the press dispatches from Jacksonville. That dispatch reads:

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 9.—Two Florida companies contested for the state prize in the sub-tropical military drill today, Gainesville Guards and Metropolitan Light Infantry, of Jacksonville. The judges withheld their decision until Friday. Tomorrow the contest for the inter-state prizes begin, there being six entries, including Georgia, Florida and South Carolina companies. The attendance is large and the excitement is great.

Never before has so much interest been manifested in a military contest by people who were of a military turn as well as those who never shouldered a gun.

It was street talk all day long, and up to a late hour at night little groups were still collected about the different armories and hotel corridors talking about the chances of this company and the chances of that.

Last night, and, indeed, almost continuously during the day, THE CONSTITUTION office was fairly besieged with squads of interested military men seeking the latest bulletins.

The positions the Atlanta companies drew in the drill were generally received with satisfaction, the friends of each company arguing good results from their respective points of view.

One telegram announced that George Crawford would act as first sergeant for the Rifles, taking the place of Sergeant Hightower, who was too sick to drill.

A special to THE CONSTITUTION, at 2 o'clock this morning, says:

"JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 9.—[Special.]—The only drill contest today was between two Florida companies—the Gainesville Guards and the Metropolitan Light Infantry, of Jacksonville.

The Guards drilled on the sub-tropical grounds in the forenoon, and the Metropolitans in the afternoon.

Large audiences were in attendance at each contest. The judges withheld their decision until Friday, but it is conceded on all hands, however, that Gainesville will take the prize.

Commencing tomorrow morning, the most exciting event of the grand drill at the sub-tropical grounds will begin at 10:30 o'clock. The crack companies of Georgia and Florida are to cross guns, figuratively speaking, and the contest will be eagerly watched by their thousands of friends, who are betting on their favorites. Although there are some fifteen or more entries for the inter-state drill there will be only six actually contesting, the others having backed out. The contest will commence at 10:30 in the morning, the Gate City Guard, of Atlanta, Ga., being first to open the battle. After this the famous Southern Cadets, of Macon, will go on the field. In the evening, commencing at 3:30, the Metropolitan Light Infantry, of Jacksonville, will drill, to be followed by the Edgefield Rifles, of Edgefield, S. C. Friday forenoon, at 10:30, the Atlanta Rifles will drill, to be followed by the Gainesville Guards, of Gainesville, Fla.

THE EXPOSITION.

President Wylie Calls a Special Meeting of the Executive Board.

President Wylie issued a call yesterday for a meeting of the executive board of the Piedmont Exposition company, to be held this afternoon. The purpose of the meeting is to consider the amusement features of the programme and other important matters which were referred to the executive committee by the directors at their meeting Monday night.

Colonel L. F. Livingston, president of the Farmers' alliance, called on President Wylie and Secretary Arnold Tuesday and assured them of his co-operation in making the exposition a success.

Death of Mrs. Merritt.

Mrs. P. W. Merrit died at her home in this city Tuesday evening. Mrs. Merrit was a lady whose Christian life and character endeared her to an extensive circle of friends. The funeral will occur today.

of its city lots at CARDIFF,

Tuesday April 22, 1890,

AND FOLLOWING DAYS.

Excursions trains will be run from New England, leaving Boston, Saturday,

APRIL 19, 1890.

The Cadiff properties are not experimental. The Coal and Iron have been profitably mined more than twenty years. The location is in the midst of already developed properties. The Company owns over 50,000 acres of Coal and Iron and Timber lands, situated in the Tennessee counties of Roane, Cumberland and Morgan. Its city of Cardiff contains over 3,000 acres.

There is scarcely any industry which cannot find a favorable chance at Cardiff for successful establishment and profit. The development is in charge of men of approved judgment and experience. Excursions to Cardiff for the sale, will be arranged from principal cities of the North and West.

Proceeds of sales to be applied to the development of the property by the erection of Iron Furnaces, Coke Ovens, Hotel, Water Works, Motor Line, Electric Lights, Mfg Plants, Public Buildings, etc.

A plan will be offered which will enable purchasers to secure lots at reasonable and not speculative prices, the intention being to give patrons of the sale a chance to make a profit, as well as the Co.

Accommodations will be provided for all attending the sale.

GEORGIA RAILROADS.

RATE CLERKS OF THE SOUTHERN PASSENGER ASSOCIATION MEET.

Colonel Maddox Has a Word to Say About the Special from Fort Valley—All Over the State.

The regular quarterly meeting of the rate committee of the Southern Passenger association is now in progress, and will probably continue for four or five days more.

Those in attendance are:

W. J. Earls, Southern Passenger association.

J. A. Jones, East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railway.

A. Maddison, Associated Railways of Virginia and the Carolinas.

E. J. Kershaw, Central Railroad of Georgia.

H. C. McFaddin, Savannah, Florida and Western railway.

W. F. March, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway.

G. A. Reviere, Plant system.

Sam DuBose, Florida Central and Peninsular.

J. B. Coykendall, Georgia Southern and Florida railroad.

C. H. Grant, Georgia Pacific railway.

A. J. Poston, Richmond and Danville railroad.

The committee are meeting in the association rooms in the chamber of commerce.

Their business is a routine revision of the rate sheets, and is believed to be without a feature of any special interest.

Colonel Maddox Talks.

Colonel Maddox, president of the Atlanta and Florida, said yesterday in reference to THE CONSTITUTION special from Fort Valley.

"There is no truth in it, and it does seem to me that the misrepresentation is malicious. I can't imagine what purpose there is but to prejudice those cases in court. I will say for myself that there's no truth in it."

The Work Progressing.

The engineering corps of the Georgia, Carolina and Northern is progressing rapidly with the work of locating the line of that road, between Jug Tavern and Atlanta. Major A. W. Glaster has charge of the corps, he being the assistant of Major R. H. Templer, the chief engineer of the line. Lines have been adopted as far south as Jug Tavern, and contracts for building the road have been let out as far south as Athens. The line is being now located six miles west of Jug Tavern, and will follow the dividing line between the two ridges to Duluth on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air-Line, another paralleling the line of that road to Atlanta.

Another line has been surveyed from Jug Tavern through Lawrenceville dividing the territory between the Atlanta and Charlotte Air-Line and the Georgia railroad, coming out near the Atlanta Piano factory at junction of the two roads. This line runs two miles east of Clarksville, and parallels the Georgia railroad track into Atlanta, going through the Inman park property.

It has not been decided which of these two lines will be adopted. There is considerable opposition to the last named route by the owners of the Inman park property, and Senator Colquitt. It is understood that the right-of-way through the Inman park property and that of Senator Colquitt can be purchased, but considerable more money is asked for this privilege than the company feels disposed to paying.

The Middle Georgia and Atlantic.

A pretty contest is now going on between President Sparks of Macon Construction company and President Machen of Middle Georgia and Atlantic road, as to which will build a road first from Macon to Savannah. Machen already has his charter and has put forces into the field to commence operations towards Macon. One of Machen's original schemes in connection with his proposed road from Atlanta to Savannah was to build a connecting line from some point in southeast Georgia to Port Royal. Information tonight is that the Macon Construction company will also apply for a charter to build to Port Royal, and thus try, it seems, to outstrip Machen in his original and progressive plans. It is understood that Machen is strongly backed by northern capital, which coupled with his own well-known energies and abilities, make him a powerful competitor. Atlanta is interested in this fight, for it means connection for her with Savannah and Port Royal. Machen and Sparks are in New York, and Maconites are eagerly awaiting developments.

A Short Line to Savannah.

LINTON, Ga., April 9.—[Special.]—THE CONSTITUTION of Monday last stated that Professor Ivy W. Duggan was surveying an air-line from Linton to Sandersville, in anticipation of Colonel Machen's proposed road.

Colonel Fry's survey at Eatonton, crossing the Oconee river at DeJarnette's springs, crossed the Macon and Augusta railroad nearly two miles south of Devereaux station in Hancock county. At this point on the Macon and Augusta road, Professor Duggan commenced, and surveying almost an air-line, he found a most excellent route, the whole distance being only twenty-two and a half miles. This will shorten the estimated line from Atlanta to Savannah at least twelve miles. The estimate has been fifty-six miles from Eatonton to Sandersville, but this will make it less than forty-four miles. Those who have passed along the line are astonished that a route so direct, with so little grading, and so practicable, could have been found.

Memphis and Charleston.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The minority stockholders' committee of the Memphis and Charleston railroad have prepared a circular which it is sending to the minority stockholders suggesting the sale of stock to another interest. They decline to give the circular for publication on the ground that publicity may prevent the consummation of the deal. A majority of the stock is held by the East Tennessee railroad, but its voting power has been impaired by legal obstacles on the part of the minority holders, and it is generally thought that the proposed scheme is intended to remove these obstacles and give the East Tennessee road complete control of the Memphis and Charleston line.

Under One Head.

One hundred hands are needed by a contractor on the Abbeville and Waycross railroad. S. P. Lassiter, president of the construction company, expects the rail for the road to begin to arrive in about thirty days.

Major Gloster, in charge of a corps of engineers on the Georgia, Carolina and Northen, returned to Irwinville last week and a preliminary survey is being made from Johnson's shop, about eight miles from Duluth, to Duluth, on the Air-Line. Last Saturday they were encamped near Crawford Dean's on the Peachtree road, and it is supposed that the line to Duluth will be complete this week. It is not known what the purpose of this new survey is, as the officials are reticent as to it. It is hardly possible that they will run the line to the Richmond and Danville road unless some sort of traffic arrangements can be made with the company to use the track into Atlanta jointly, for it would be a loss of five or six miles in distance, and they are not exceeding two miles nearer Atlanta at Duluth than it would be at Lawrenceville.

The Rockdale Banner has this kick for Conyers: (1) The freight rate from Conyers to Westminster, S. C., via Atlanta, a distance of 143 miles, is twenty-nine cents per hundred pounds; (2) that from Conyers to Westminster via Augusta, a distance of 385 miles, is forty-four cents per hundred pounds; (3) the Georgia road positively refuses to ship goods for H. D. Terrell & Co., by way of Atlanta, which is much the nearer and cheaper route.

A West End Fire.

The residence of Mr. J. M. Hunnicutt, of West End, was discovered to be on fire early yesterday morning. Fortunately, a gang of street laborers were at work near the house, and with their assistance, the fire was put out. The roof was somewhat damaged, but can easily be repaired.

MISS IDA HUBNER'S DEATH.

The Sad Ending of a Beautiful Life Yesterday Morning.

Miss Ida Hubner is dead.

After many weeks, during which she lingered between life and death, her pure young spirit took its flight on the wings of the morning.

She died at half past seven o'clock yesterday morning, yielding up her spirit with all the true and patient resignation of a Christian character.

Miss Hubner was the idol of her parents, Major and Mrs. Charles W. Hubner, and was possessed of all those qualities which go to make up a perfect woman. Endowed with superior intellectual gifts, she possessed a genial, sunny disposition that won the hearts of all with whom she came in contact, and many, many loving friends will mourn to hear of her death, so premature in one whose young life was just budding with the promise of so much grace and beauty.

She was just nineteen year of age, and was born in Atlanta. When a student at the Girls' High school, she won the Peabody medal for the best composition. She finished her education at the Smilie institute, where she graduated with high honors.

At an early age she gave many evidences of having inherited the genius of her gifted father. She was given every possible advantage, and her parents were painstaking in their efforts to cultivate every faculty of mind and body, so that she might enter into womanhood in the most auspicious manner. Her contributions in the way of choice prose and tender poesy, were marvels of beautiful thought and expression. She was gifted with rare elocutionary powers, and was often the central figure in entertainments where her assitance was solicited.

Last winter she contracted typhoid pneumonia, and despite the most asiduous nursing and attention, her precious life was doomed. She lingered until the warm winds of April were just forming into life the buds and blossoms; and then she went to sleep.

Her death is a cause for sorrow in the hearts of many who knew and loved her, and for her parents there is only the consolation that in death she has simply exchanged the mortal for the immortal.

Five years ago, she became a member of the Fourth Presbyterian church, and since that time her life has been devoted to the work of self-denying Christian charity. It is at that church that the funeral will occur at three o'clock this afternoon, Rev. T. P. Cleveland officiating.

The following gentlemen have been requested to act as pall-bearers, and will meet at Patterson's undertaking parlors: Messrs. Eugene D. Wilson, Charles F. Wurm, Jack Stewart, Lucien Knight, Porter Wingfield, and H. M. Nichols.

Mrs. Copp's Death.

Yesterday Mrs. Copp, wife of Mr. W. T. Copp, and mother of Mrs. Thomas Scully, died at her residence near Scully's paper mills. She had been ill for some time, and her death was not unexpected. She was about sixty years of age, and was a lady much beloved by a large circle of friends. The funeral will occur at the family burying ground in the country today.

Death of Mrs. Merritt.

The death of Mrs. P. W. Merritt occurred at the residence, on Ponce deLeon Circle, Tuesday night, at 8:30.

Mrs. Merritt had been in bad health for some time, and her death was not a surprise to those who knew her.

The funeral services will take place Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, from the residence. The body will be interred at Decatur, Ga.

MUST SELL THEIR HOMES.

To Pay for Street Paving—Residents of Glenn Street Make a Protest.

At the last meeting of the general council a petition for the paving of Glenn street from Smith to Humphries, with rubble stone, was passed up.

The petition was signed by the Atlanta Lumber company, E. B. Rosser, John Ryan and W. G. Rosser.

But a majority of the property owners on Glenn street don't want the paving done and they say they are not able to pay for it, and if it is done they will have to sell out to get money to foot the bill.

The law requires that one-third of the property owners must sign the petition before that paving can be done.

In this, the petition was all right.

Between the streets named in the petition the distance to be paved is 1,815 feet. One-third of this would be 605 feet.

Six hundred and fifty-nine front feet are represented in the petition. This binds the remaining 1,156 feet, and the owners of that are compelled to pay their pro rata of the paving bill. Of the six hundred and fifty-nine feet represented in the petition the Atlanta Lumber company owns 320, E. B. Rosser 165, John Ryan 93 and W. G. Rosser 71 feet.

Besides these there are a dozen or more property owners on the street.

Most of them are unable to pay for street work, they claim. They say it is unjust that they should be compelled to sacrifice their property because four other property owners on the same street, who happen to be able to pay, want paving done.

But the petition is ample according to law, and the council has ordered the work done.

STATE HOUSE NOTES.

Governor Gordon issued an order yesterday removing J. H. Gordon, the sheriff of Wilcox county, from office, and directing that an election be held to fill the vacancy. The removal was made necessary because D. F. McCimmon, who was surety on Sheriff Gordon's bond, notified the governor that he had withdrawn his name. In compliance with the law, Sheriff Gordon was given ten days' notice to file a new bond. The time expired Tuesday, and as no steps had been taken toward making the surety good, the governor found it necessary yesterday morning to announce that Wilcox county was without a sheriff.

A charter for a new railroad was granted yesterday by Secretary of State General Cook. The incorporators of the enterprise are Messrs. DeWitt C. Bacon and Horace Smart, of Chatham county, and Mr. Martin F. Amorous, of Fulton county. The charter was granted in the name of the Savannah and Oconee Railroad company, and the capital to be invested is $250,000. The road will run from the Savannah river, in Chatham county, to the Oconee river, in Laurens county. It will enter or pass through Chatham, Brian, Effingham, Bulloch, Emanuel, Montgomery and Laurens counties, and will be when completed one hundred and fifteen miles in length.

Frank Beck, Rev. W. S. Stevens, E. S. Lupton, J. F. Miller, L. Straub, W. A. Hensell, Frank Hudson, G. A. Kelley, Percy Mays, Edward Austin, Guy Thurman, Frank Boland, De Los Hill, J. W. Brown.

BROKE INTO A POSTOFFICE.

Marian Moss Sentenced for Three Years Yesterday.

The time of Judge Newman's court was taken up yesterday with the trial of a negro named Marian Moss, charged with robbing a postoffice.

The robbery was committed in September last at Wildwood, Ga.

The loss was light, and about all Moss secured was $8 or $9 worth of postage stamps.

He was found guilty and sentenced for three years at hard labor in the government penitentiary at Columbus, Ohio.

MEMORIAL DAY.

THE PROMISES OF A GREAT GATHERING INCREASING.

More Letters from Generals Who Are Coming—Arrangements for the Gathering of the Soldiers.

Greater and greater are the assurances received by the managers of Memorial Day that the crowd of confederate soldiers who will be in Atlanta on the 26th of April will be the largest ever congregated in the south.

New suggestions are continually being made, and the entire programme for the exercises will be published in THE CONSTITUTION as soon as it is completed.

Among the events that have been definitely arranged is the laying of the corner-stone of the confederate home, which will take place on the morning of the 26th. Judge Lowndes Calhoun has this matter in charge, and will see that many relics of the war are enclosed in the stone.

The following call to the Seventh Georgia regiment has been issued:

ATTENTION, SEVENTH GEORGIA!

The members of the Seventh Georgia Confederate Veterans' association are respectfully invited, and earnestly requested, to attend in a body the memorial exercises to be held in Atlanta on the 26th of April next. Meet at the courthouse, in Atlanta, at 10 a. m., with badges.

JOHN B. DUNCAN, President.
C. W. WELLS, Secretary.

Since publishing the list of officers who would be present on memorial day, the following letters have been received:

E. T. POUND.

SPARTA, Ga., April 4, 1890.—Mr. W. A. Hemphill, Atlanta, Ga.: Dear Sir—I notice a letter by John Milledge, H. C. Hamilton, and others, addressed to the old soldiers of the ex-confederate states, regarding Memorial Day, April 26th. I was one of the boys in gray, and would be pleased to meet the boys on that occasion. So please put me down as coming. Please let me know as to the reduced rates, etc. I am yours truly. E. T. POUND.

N. N.—Company I, 49th Georgia Volunteers. E. L. Thomas, brigadier Wilcox division army of Virginia, was my command.

GENERAL FAYETTE HEWITT.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 2.—W. A. Hemphill, Atlanta, Ga., Dear Sir: I have your circular invitation for next Memorial Day, April 26, as a day of reunion of confederate soldiers.

I trust I may be able to attend and will allow no ordinary matter to defeat my desire to be present. Yours truly, FAYETTE HEWITT.

GENERAL SAM HODGES.

NORFOLK, Va., April 4.—W. A. Hemphill, secretary of committee, Confederate Veterans association, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear sir: The invitation from your association to be present and join hands on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the furling of the confederate flag is received.

My inability to be present and participate in the re-union of the survivors of the loved cause shall always be a source of regret, for I should probably meet many familiar faces, hear many familiar names, and press friendly hands.

Georgia specially endeared herself to the people of Norfolk during the first year of the war by the band of gentlemen soldiers she sent among us, whom it would be such a pleasure to meet just once again.

As you state in your letter of invitation, "many of our comrades have gone to their rest," this should serve to remind us that before many years have passed, we, too, must join their ranks, and cause those of us who have been permitted to remain to draw but the nearer together as a bereaved family sheltering and protecting their helpless,

Pickett-Buchanan camp join you in your holy work in all but bodily presence. Your comrade, SAM HODGES, Commander.

THE CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

The Various Committees Called to Meet for Action.

HEADQUARTERS CONFEDERATE VETERANS' ASSOCIATION, ATLANTA, April 9, 1890.—The following named committees, for Memorial Day, will meet at Confederate hall this Thursday night, at 7:30 o'clock, to perfect the arrangements:

A full attendance of every member of the committees is absolutely necessary to insure the success of the day.

W. L. CALHOUN, President.

Cumberland Island.

A letter from Mr. Bunkley, proprietor of Cumberland Island, states that he has built nine new cottages and supplied his house with artesian water from a well near the hotel. that he is better prepared than ever to entertain his guests, and will do all in his power to make them enjoy themselves. He also says that at this time fishing is very fine, especially drum fishing.

The Beauty of Health.

How many women with regular features that might be beautiful, are not, and instead of awakening our admiration only arouse our pity. Their hollow eyes and sunken cheeks and sallow skin haunt our memory. Alas! an invalid wife or mother or sister fills the house with gloom and sadness, and are otherwise happy fireside is shadowed with a pall of regret. Blessed be the physician who has invented a remedy with power to strengthen the female organization, that regulates the delicate functions of feminine life, that relieves those bearing-down pains, that renews the appetite, that perfects digestion, that brightens the eyes and beautifies the complexion with the glow of health. Such a remedy is Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla. It is woman's best friend for counteracting the evils that afflict her sex. Thousands of ladies owe their beauty to a use of this incomparable alterative. Demand it of your druggist. Take no other.—Paris News

Atlanta and Florida Railroad Bonds.

We are now offering for sale Atlanta and Florida railroad, first mortgage, 6 per cent, fifty year, gold bonds.

The road is one hundred and five miles in length, extending from Atlanta to Fort Valley, and has an issue of only $8,000 per mile, which is very small for a standard road, complete in every respect.

The road has cost one-half a million more money than the amount of the bonded indebtedness.

We represent these bonds as being perfectly safe, and in our opinion no better of safer investment can be made in the way of bonds, by those who are satisfied with 6 per cent.

We have sold eighty-eight of them in this community, to some of Atlanta's most successful business men as an investment of $1,000 each, and are now offering them at par and interest.

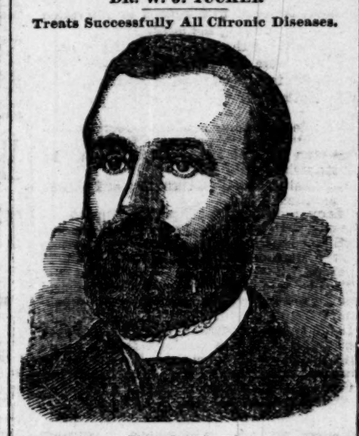

Those wishing to invest can get further information by calling on the undersigned.

500 DOLLARS

Deposited with the Lowry Banking Co., of Atlanta, Ga., which I will promptly pay to any one who will disprove any of the following statements:

This means just as it reads. The following persons are all reliable. I have hundreds of other statements similar to these in my office:

Colonel Wash Roach, attorney-at-law, 132 Broughton street, Savannah, Ga., says that he has for five years suffered with severe stricture and ulceration of the rectum. After having tried many of the most eminent physicians in Georgia, and having traveled nearly all over the country in search of health, I found no relief until I put myself under Dr. W. J. Tucker, and in the short space of three moths I find myself nearly well.

Mrs. H. P. Stevens, an estimable lady of Waycross, Ga., says: Five years ago I was given up to die by the best physicians of southeast, Georgia, all of whom said I could not live but a few weeks. As the last resot I determined to try Dr. W. J. Tucker, of Atlanta, Ga. In less than three months the doctor had me restored to health. I am confident I would have died had it not been for his marvelous skill.

W. H. Phillips, Simsboro, La., says: I have suffered for ten years with liver disease and chronic diarrhoea, and after being treated by Dr. W. J. Tucker a very short time am almost entirely well.

Dr. Fred B. Palmer, Atlanta, Ga., one of the best known and most popular druggists of Georgia, and also himself a physician, suffered for many years with piles, was cured by Dr. W. J. Tucker and remains perfectly well.

Mrs. J. F. Kinsey, Camak, Ga.: Spinal disease, nervous prostration and diseases peculiar to her sex, confined to her bed, helpless for many months, treated by Dr. W. J. Tucker three or four years ago, and since that time has been able to attend to her household duties.

Mrs. J. H. Seme, Dawson, Ga., says: I have experienced the most remarkable benefit from Dr. W. J. Tucker's treatment, gained fifteen or twenty pounds in the last few months. I advise all suffering ladies to give him a trial.

Hon. E. E. Foy, Egypt, Ga., says he suffered for many years with a chronic malady, was cured by Dr. W. J. Tucker three years ago, and loses no opportunity to tell the afflicted of Dr. Tucker's skill.

The above statements are all true; no sane man would publish them if they were not, and if you do not believe me, write to the parties and satisfy yourself. I treat successfully chronic diseases and weaknesses of both sexes. I treat all who have dealings with me honestly and conscientiously. I am responsible for what I say and do professionally, financially and individually. If you are afflicted write to me or call and you shall have an honest opinion.

Treating Patients by Correspondence.

It is rarely necessary for me to see my patients. Many patients can be better treated that way than by meeting the physician direct. Patients should always give age, sex, married or single, present and former weight (as near as possible) and occupation. Follow this with history of case in your own language, giving all symptoms, inclosing stamp for reply. Address:

TEMPLE COMMITTEE.

THE MASONS OF ATLANTA ARE STILL ON A BOOM.

The Subscription List Has Reached a Maximum Point of Nearly $30,000, and There Are More Orders to be Heard From.

There was another meeting of the Masonic temple committee, at Masonic hall, last evening.

The meeting was of a strictly business character and was intended for the receiving of the reports of the committee from the various lodges and orders. The reports were as follows:

Atlanta lodge, No. 59, $4,070.
Fulton lodge, No. 216, $2,150.
Georgia lodge, No. 96, $4,500.
Gate City lodge, No. 2, $9,760.
The total is $20,480.

Cœur de Leon commandery, Mt. Zion Chapter Yaarab Temple, and Mystic Shrine, were unrepresented, but there are several thousand dollars to be reported by those orders, raising the subscriptions list to $26,850. There are several subscriptions unreported which will raise the sum to nearly $30,000.

There is no doubt but that the $40,000 desired will be raised, as Gate City, has already raised nearly $10,000, and three other older lodges, only one of which number has less members than Gate City, will exert themselves to increase the subscription list.

The building of the temple is already assured, and the indefatigable efforts of those interested, will insure the raising of the fund at $40,000, which is the great desire of the various lodges and orders of the fraternity.

After discussing the matter in all its bearings the meeting adjourned to meet at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, at which time the secretaries of the different orders, the presiding officers and members of the building committee are requested and expected to be present.

THE SPELLING BEE.

New Names Added—Others to Come—Novel Features to Be Introduced.

The spelling bee will again claim the attention of the public. A week ago the names of thirty spellers were printed. It was a bona fide list, including some of the most prominent gentlemen in Atlanta, with the chief justice, the mayor, an ex-governor, and a score or more other prominent gentlemen.

Owing to the absence of the chairman of the library lecture committee the matter has been allowed to rest a few days. Meantime several names have been added and the list will now be swelled to fifty or more. The original thirty are all there and the full list will be printed in a few days.

The following gentlemen have been added to the list, making forty-one so far: Colonel Allert Cox, Mr. Albert Howell, Jr., Professor Ben M. Hall, late of the Dahlonega college, Mr. C. P. Byrd, Mr. L. M. Ward, Mr. C. F. Rice, Mr. Julian Harris, Mr. W. B. Lowe, Colonel J. Van Holt Nash, Mr. Powers and Mr. H. H. Cabaniss.

The Opera house has been engaged for the 22d of April and every arrangement will be made to give zest to the occasion.

A delightful surprise is in store for the audience in a novel feature which cannot be divulged in advance, but those who come may rest assured that they will have to exercise their diaphragms continually.

Tickets sell for fifty cents and may bebought at the library and the stores of Stoney, Gregory & Co., Jacobs' pharmacy, Tyner's drug-store, Richard's, and Lester & Kuhrt's book-stores; also from the directors, Dr. G. L. Chaney, Professor W. L. Slaton, George B. Forbes, G. R. DeSaussure, W. D. Ellis, E. M. Mitchell, J. R. Nutting, A. V. Gude, A. A. Meyer, J. H. Lumpkin, J. F. O'Neill, Dr. L. S. Hopkins, W. G. Cooper, Will Haight and Joseph Hirsch.

Additions to the list of spellers will be announced from time to time. The 700 members of the library are requested to talk it up. Every member is requested to mention the spelling bee to twelve other people.

The following note from a lady shows how much curiosity there is about the affair. It is already talked about in many of the outlying towns:

EDITOR CONSTITUTION: In regard to the Library Spelling Bee that is to take place in Atlanta soon will you please oblige me by publishing in THE CONSTITUTION the list of words given the spellers? Very truly, MRS. D. H. DUBOSE.
Greenville, Ga., April, 1890.

This information may be had the day after the bee. The list will be interesting; there is no doubt on that score. It is being prepared by Dr. I. S. Hopkins, of the Technological school, assisted by other orthographic experts on the board, and is guaranteed to thin the ranks as fast as the audience may desire.

A SAD CASE.

Mr. Sam Fulton's Property to go for His Shortage.

Mr. Sam Fulton, who was removed from the tax receiver's office because a shortage in his accounts was detected has written a card.

Here it is:

ATLANTA, April 9.—EDITORS THE CONSTITUTION: In justice to myself, I want to make a statement in regard to my connection with the city clerk's office as collector of street improvements. I commenced work for the city October 5, 1885, and have done four and a half years hard work. It is said I did not keep my books posted as I should have done; but if I had had only this work to do I could have kept up. I have done a great deal of work for the city clerk and his assistants, keeping me there many times until late in the night to catch up with posting the books. A great many of my bills were collected in the office while I was out in the city at work, and while I believe there is not a dishonest man connected with the city government, mistakes may be made where there are so many different ones receipting for the bills and oftentimes made in small partial payments. I went into the office without giving any bond, have never taken a receipt for any money collected, and I have collected nearly one half million of dollars for the city, besides turning over a large amount to the marshal. I have always been kind and obliging to every one, and what errors I may have made are due to the amount of work I had to do and not intentional on my part, for God knows I would not wrong the city out of one cent.

I have endeavored to fulfill my duties to the best of my ability but the work that I have had to do was too much to put upon any one man.

I leave this matter in the hands of the council and whatever they decide upon, I will abide by.
Very respectfully, SAMUEL FULTON.

"I want to go to Nanticoke in a day or two," said Mr. Fulton, as he handed in the card.

"I have down there a lot for which I can get about three hundred dollaars and I must sell it to get something to live on. Not long ago it had a large fine house on it and I could have gotten as many thousand then as I'll get hundred now. But that's a poor man's luck.

"I have been working hard," he went on "for five years to get my home paid for and have paid all but a few hundred dollars. But now all must go."

GLENN'S LAST VETO.

In Which He Disfranchises Women From Being Saloon Keepers.

Mayor Glenn has written another veto.

The general council, at its last session, granted a retail beer license to Mrs. John E. Schmidt at 216 Decatur street.

But Mayor Glenn thinks a woman should not be allowed to sell intoxicants, and in his veto says:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, ATLANTA, GA., April 8, 1890. To the Members of the General Council: I cannot believe that it is right or good policy for the city to grant a license to a female to keep a beer saloon, and I therefore enter a veto to your action at the last meeting in licensing Mrs. John E. Schmidt to keep a beer saloon at 216 Decatur street. The license was applied for by her through her agent, John E. Schmidt, and she makes the affidavit required by the ordinance. She is the one whom the city would hold responsible for a strict compliance with all the laws and ordinances governing the liquor traffic, and for the maintainence of good order in this saloon. Should such an obligation be imposed upon a woman?

I renew the recommendation which I made some time ago that you pass an ordinance prohibiting women from entering barrooms or beer saloons under proper penalties.

It seems to me that selling and drinking liquors should be confined to the stronger sex so far as the city can control it. Respectfully submitted,
JOHN T. GLENN, Mayor.

Revival at St. Paul's Church.

There is a very interesting meeting in progress at St. Paul's Methodist church, in this city. The pastor, Rev. M. L. Underwood, has been ably assisted by Rev. C. C. Cary, of Newnan, and Rev. T. F. Pierce, presiding elder of the South Atlanta district. These divines have made a profound impression upon the congregation. Several have professed religion and joined the church. One of the interesting features of the meeting is the singing of Mr. John Hendricks, of Newnan. Mr. Hendricks preaches the gospel in song. He does not fail to stir the souls of those who hear him. Services every day at 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. All invited.

He Deserves Success.

Mr. Fred H. Young, a young man of energy, is starting an enterprise that will result, if he pushes the business as he has started, in building up a large trade. He is making on a small scale pickles, preserves, catsups, and relishes of various kinds. He makes a relish called Young's Hotspur relish that is creating a furor among the epicures of the city, and he sells it as fast as he makes it. The formula for making it is only known to Mr. Young and is very valuable. Mr. Young is a deserving man and his enterprise is commended to our people. Just try one bottle of his Hotspur relish and you will find it the very thing you want.

Revival.

Come to the revival services held every night at Marietta street Methodist Episcopal church, conducted by Brothers J. L. Fowler and N. R. Keeling.

My wife for several years had been an invalid and slowly grew worse. I tried doctors, but their skill failed. A neighbor recommended Dr. Bull's Sarsaparilla and her health began to mend at once. She weighs fifteen pounds more than she did four months ago, and feels quite strong and well.—G. W. Strain, Canton, O.

An Important Real Estate Sale.

One of the most important sales of real estate this spring is that of the Copenhill Land company on the 22d instant, by G. W. Adair. This company own nearly 200 acres of the prettiest land in the county, and have selected twenty-three of the prettiest lots in the tract to inaugurate a series of sales to take place this spring and summer.

They are beautifully graded, and some of them front the Edgewood extension of Highland avenue, on electric line, and parties wishing magnificent suburban lots are invited to take the Broad street electric car and go out and examine this land. It will be a revelation to them to witness how much art can add to nature.

TRULY MIRACULOUS.

The Bed-Ridden Restored to Health by Magnetism—Other Cures Almost as Astonishing.

Yesterday a reporter called at the parlors of Dr. Evans, the magnetic physician, 34 N. Forsyth street, to investigate that strange man's wonderful power over disease. The first person interviewed was Mr. S. Booth, who stated that he resided at 69 Foundry street and was employed with the Winship Machine company. After introducing us to his wife, who was present, he said that over one year ago his wife was stricken down helpless and had been completely bedridden and as helpless as a babe ever since, not being able to turn herself in bed from nervous exhaustion, weak spine and female diseases, displacement, etc. He said that the other physicians had exhausted their skill in her case without the least benefit. So he concluded to call on Dr. Evans and see if he could persuade him to visit his wife, which the doctor kindly consented to do. He visited her late in the evening and gave her a magnetic treatment, which so far restored her that she arose from her bed the next morning and walked around the room, and in a few days she was able to take a carriage and visit the doctor at his office. She has visited him here at his office, said Mr. Booth, this makes the third time, and is now quite a well woman, as you see, requiring only a little more time to build up her wasted and exhausted system, and we would be pleased to have anyone who so desires to call on us and learn for themselves the apparent miracle Dr. Evans has wrought on her.

Mr. G. W. Brandt, residing at Nickajack P. O., on Georgia Pacific railroad, was for years a terrible sufferer from piles, also catarrh. Dr. Evans cured his piles in two weeks without pain or other inconvenience. This gentleman will reply to any inquiries addressed to the above post-office.

Rev. A. W. Walker, residing at Westminster, Ga., was cured of total deafness of one ear, and also extreme nervous exhaustion, which had incapacitated him for any mental or physical labor for two years, may be referred to.

Mrs. Lindsey, 28 Forsnwalt street, stated that when she applied to Dr. Evans she was totally deaf in the right ear and quite deaf in the left for the past eight years, and that by a few magnetic treatments Dr. Evans restored her hearing so that she could now hear almost as well as ever.

Mrs. H. stated that for twelve years she had suffered constantly from extreme nervousness, accompanied by constant pain in the head and spine, also other weaknesses, all of which disappeared after a few magnetic treatments by the doctor.

This lady's address can be had at the doctor's office, which she permits through gratitude to the doctor and in the interest of the afflicted.

Mr. M. C. Fulton, an old and esteemed resident of Decatur, also stated that he had been very deaf for the past seven or eight years, until he applied to Dr. Evans a few weeks ago, and now he could hear almost as well as he ever could.

References also made to the following prominent business gentlemen of the city: Captain M. T. Castleberry, residence 164 West Peters street; Mr. J. J. Barnes, commission merchant, place of business 18 South Forsyth street; Mr. Joseph Lender, restauranter, 23 Marietta street; Mr. A. W. McCandless, photographer, 35 Pryor street, and scores of others of the best known citizens of Atlanta. Dr. Evans cures cancers with less pain than any other method known. He cures all female diseases, displacements, etc., without the use of instruments or exposure of person. He cures piles, fissures, fistulas, ulceration, stricture and all diseases of the rectum without the use of knife or detention from business.

Dr. Evans is not to be classed with ordinary magnetic healers. He is a graduate of two different schools of medicine, as is shown by his diplomas, which ornament his reception rooms.

Dr. Evans can be consulted at his parlors, 34 North Forsyth street, from 10 a. m. until 7 p. m. of each day, for a considerable time to come. Consultation free.

JOHN DUNCAN'S SONS, N. Y.,
AGENTS FOR THE UNITED STATES.

Notice by the Mayor and General Council of the City of Atlanta of the Holding of an Election to Determine the Question Whether Bonds shall be Issued by said City.

WHEREAS, THE MAYOR AND GENERAL Council of the City of Atlanta desire to issue two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) of bonds of said City, for the purpose of increasing the water supply, of said city, and desire also to issue one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in bonds, for the purpose of paying the city's proportion of the expense of the construction of sewers in said city, and the assent of the qualified voters of said city being necessary thereto.

Therefore, be it ordained by the Mayor and General Council aforesaid, that in accordance with the Constitution and Laws of said State, an election shall be held on the twenty-third (23d) day of April, 1890, to determine the question whether said water bonds and sewer bonds, or either series of said proposed bonds, shall be issued by said city, and that notice to the people (qualified voters of said city), be published in THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, the paper in which the Sheriff's advertisement of said county are published, and also in The Atlanta Evening Journal, for the space of thirty days next preceding the day of said election as provided by law, said bonds to bear interest at the rate of four per cent. (4 per cent per annum, and to run not exceeding thirty years from the date thereof, the interest to be paid semi-annually, on the first days of January and July of each year, and the principals of said bonds to be fully paid off within thirty years from the date of issuance thereof.

If the issue of said water bonds and sewer bonds, or either of such series of bonds, is voted by the requisite two-thirds of the qualified voters of said city, then, and before the proposed debt is incurred, an ordinance or ordinances shall be passed providing for the issue and sale thereof, and making provision at the same time for the assessment and collection of annual taxes sufficient in amount to pay the principal and interest of said debt within thirty years from the date of incurring said indebtedness.

But this shall not operate to increase the annual tax on real estate or personal property beyond the charter rate of one and one-half (1½) per centum per annum.

At said election, the voters shall have printed or written on their ballots "For Water Bonds," or "Against Water Bonds," and shall also have printed or written on their ballots "For Sewer Bonds" or "Against Sewer Bonds." And each voter may on the same ballot for or against either water bonds or sewer bonds, or for the one and against the other, or for both or against both, or may vote with reference to the one and not vote as to the other, as he may desire.

Said election shall be held as municipal elections in this city are held, and conducted in like manner, and in accordance with sections 508 I to 508 M. inclusive. of the code of the state of Georgia.

I certify that the foregoing preamble and ordinance were adopted by the mayor and council of the city of Atlanta on March 17, 1890, and concurred in by the aldermanic board on the same day, and approved by the mayor of said city on March 18, 1890.

This March 18, 1890.

48 PETERS PARK LOTS FOR SALE 48

APRIL 15, AT 3 O'CLOCK, UPON THE PREMISES, on North avenue, Cherry and Plum streets. The Peters Park property has been in demand for the last twenty years. The Technological school, one of the grandest state institutions in Georgia, fronts this property on Cherry street. The Union street cars on North avenue and the proposed electric line on Luckie street, makes these lots exceedingly valuable for residences. The locality is delightful with no bad surroundings. Call at my office for plat, examine every lot, look at the present improvements and see the big money already expended by the state in that magnificent Technological building, and you are bound to admit that this is the place to put your money, either for a home or an investment. Prices are certain to double up for years to come. The western part of Atlanta is growing in population rapidly. Houses are going up in every direction, manufactories are being built all along the different railroads. Now is certainly the time to buy. Terms, one-third cash, balance one and two years, 8 per cent. H. L. WILSON, Real Estate Agent, aple 6-8p dtd 3 Kimball House, Pryor St.

THE SALE OF 40 LOTS
—ON—
Pryor, Windsor and Cooper Sts.
—AND—
TENNESSEE AVENUE

Has been changed from TUESDAY, the 15th, to MONDAY, the 14th.

These lots are peculiarly located—just completely built up all around them. They lay immediately in front of the shops, and extend through to Pryor street.

The demand for lots in this locality has been greater than any other section of Atlanta, and, up to now, not a lot could be had; but NEXT MONDAY you can make your selection!

We have made a wide avenue straight from the shops to Pryor street, and called it Tennessee avenue.

THE DUMMY LINE

passes in front of some of these lots, and reasonably near them all, and a new line is granted the right-of-way from Whitehall street to the railroad shops.

LITTLE NELLIE GEARY.

SHE IS IN A CONVENT, AND HER FATHER WANTS HER OUT.

An Interesting Habeas Corpus Case before Judge Calhoun—A Little Girl Picked Up by the Sisters of Charity.

Father Keily, priest in charge of the church of the Immaculate Conception, was the defendant in a habeas corpus case before Judge Calhoun yesterday morning.

The case is decidedly interesting, almost dramatic in its several phases.

P. W. Geary, a sign writer, the father of a family sued out the writ of habeaus corpus.

A pretty little child, wilful it may be, but winsome and innocent withal, is the central figure in the case.

Nellie Geary is her name.

She is the twin daughter of the petitioner, P. W. Geary, and the story from her side is most pathetic.

But there are two sides to every case.

This morning, Ordinary Calhoun will adjudge which shall stand, whether the child will be given over to her father, or whether she will be better taken care of by other hands.

A LITTLE OUTCAST.

Here is the story, gathered from those who have had a part in it.

Mr. Geary's household is presided over by a grown daughter, his wife being dead. Three other children compose his family, Annie and Nellie, the twins, being the youngest.

The father says that Nellie is willful and unruly. But be that as it may, the neighbors found her upon the streets crying piteously and trembling with fright, one night about two weeks ago. To them she said her father had driven her out from her home. She did not want to be taken back to him, and her pathetic story so touched the lady whose notice she had attracted that she was taken in.

The lady, who is a Catholic, consulted the Sisters of Charity, and upon their advice little Nellie was given into their care.

She has been with the sitsers at the convent on Loyd street ever since first placed there and is there now.

WANTS HER TO COME HOME.

A few days ago Mr. Geary, the father, called at the convent and asked to see his child.

The little girl did not want to go away with her father, and Father Keily declined to permit the sisters to give her up against her will, and in the face of the facts as they had been brought to his notice.

Mr. Geary at once put the matter in the hands of his attorney, and a writ of habeas corpus, requiring Father Keily to restore the little girl to her father was sworn out.

Judge Calhoun was to have heard the case yesterday morning, but on account of complications it was deferred until this morning. A number of witnesses will be called in to sustain the position of Father Keily. It is said that Mr. Geary has been in the habit of treating little Nellie cruelly, and because of this she should not be given into his control again.

MR. GEARY TALKS.

"The trouble all lies in Nellie's bad temper," said Mr. Geary yesterday. "She is willful and headstrong, and at times is almost beyond management. I have always been patient and kind with her.

"She runs away from home, and often takes money from my pockets and spends it foolishly. I have tried to correct her and make her obedient, in the hope that she will outgrow her bad traits, and I do not think anybody, church or sisters, have the right to come between me and my children. When I called at the convent to see her a day or two ago—for I knew she had been taken there from the first—I was not treated at all right. The sisters did not want to see me, and on another ocasion Father Keily came to my house and abused me shamefully about the matter.

"The way this came about was in my correcting Nellie for somthing she had done. I told her to go out in the yard and stay there until she could behave herself. She went out into the street, and a neighbor took it upon herself to have her sent to the convent. I knew of this, and when I thought she had been away from home long enough to teach her a lesson, I went to bring her home.

"They refused to let me have her, and so I had the habens corpus writ served on Father Keily, who is responsible for it."

FATHER KEILY.

Father Keily, in reply to a question, said: "I have nothing to say until the case is tried in court—the court will decide."

Considerable interest was manifested in the case yesterday by those familiar with the details.

Father Keily has employod an attorney, and this morning the whole story will be told in court.

And little Nellie will either be restored to her father or given into other hands.

Convincing Proof

In many instances it has been proven that B. B B. (Botanic Blood Balm), made by the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., will cure blood poison in its worse phases, even when all other treatment fails.

A. P. Brunson, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I had 24 running ulcers on one leg and 6 on the other, and felt greatly prostrated. I believe I actually swallowed a barrel of medicine, in vain efforts to cure the disease. With little hope I finally acted on the urgent advice of a friend, and got a bottle of B. B. B. I experienced a change, and my despondency was somewhat dispelled. I kept using it until I had taken sixteen bottles, and all the ulcers, rheumatism and all other horrors of blood poison have disappeared, and at last I am sound and well again, after an experience of twenty years of torture."

Robt. Ward, Maxey, Ga., writes: "My disease was pronounced a terrible tertiary form of blood poison. My face, head and shoulders were a mass of corruption, and finally the disease began eating my skull bones. My bones ached; my kidneys were deranged, I lost flesh and strength, and life became a burden. All said I must surely die, but nevertheless, when I had used ten bottles of B. B. B. I was pronounced well. Hundreds of scars can now be seen on me. I have now been well over twelve months." 1 w

THURSDAY, APRIL 17TH, AT 12 O'CLOCK, M.
—ON—
Grady Avenue, South Boulevard, Park Street, Home and Prospect Avenues.

H. L. WILSON AND KROUSE & WELCH,
Auctioneers.

This property lies on the dummy railroad, fronting South Boulevard; looking out upon Grant Park on the one side and the beautiful Confederate grounds upon the other. The view and surroundings are grand. The elegant Confederate Home building looms up in the east a perfect picture of beauty and elegance.

This part of the city is developing more rapidly than any part of South Atlanta. This property is covered with a magnificent growth of original shade trees. The approach through the park is always pleasant and attractive.

Atlanta is making rapid strides to soon show a population of over 100,000 people; first-class and choice lots will be more sought after each year. Then buy now; because you can fix your own price. When the Boulevard is completed to its southern terminus, the very lots we sell you now will be worth two and three times as much as you pay at this sale.

Every person that has invested in good real estate in this place since it was Marthasville has made money. If any one desires to pay all cash for his lot, we will arrange to secure for him a loan with which he can build and pay back the same in monthly installments.

A free lunch will be spread on the grounds at precisely 12 o'clock noon, immediately after which the sale will begin. Every lot will be sold on its merits. Terms—One-third cash, balance six and twelve months, with eight per cent interest. For plats apply to

PUTNAM'S POLICY

OF SELF-HELP AND SELF-IMPROVEMENT.

President DeJarnett, of the Putnam Alliance, Tells a Wonderful Story of Progress in that County.

A year ago THE CONSTITUTION heard of some things the alliance people of Putnam had set themselves to do, and promptly presented a consecutive account of it to the public.

Those who undertook the co-operative enterprise at Eatonton were sanguine, and promised large results. The answer of time was awaited with interest. After a year of trial, Dr. DeJarnett, the president of the Putnam County alliance, who stands at the head of the new enterprises there, gives the net results of the experiment in the interview which follows.

The actual results are astonishing, but go to confirm the old adage that God helps those who help themselves. Self-help is the keynote of Putnam's policy, and that, after all, is the secret of every substantial reform. It has been the history of those co-operative movements, both in this country and abroad, which have done so much to improve the condition of the working classes.

The educational feature is something new in the state, and it is to the everlasting credit of Putnam that she solved the educational question for herself without waiting on the slow processes of legislation. Self-help has this immense advantage—that it is more prompt than the state and tends to develop independence and originality among the people.

"Putnam alliance challenges the state!

"Boastingly? Not at all; simply that we may encourage each other in greater efforts for better work.

"About a year ago THE CONSTITUTION, with its customary enterprise, sent Mr. W. G. Cooper down to Eatonton to investigate the first independent business venture in Georgia of the great farmers' movement, viz.: Putnam County Alliance Co-Operative store. He came, he saw, he examined, he reported.

"It was a departure. Hundreds of farmers, as such, buying from hundreds of farmers, as merchants. Cash, strictly cash, having been substituted for credit. Goods were to be sold as near actual cost as consistant with safety to capital stock. Dividends were not expected. An exchange was established where the necessities, not the wants, of the people could be supplied, and surplus products of their farms disposed of. A new thing under the sun—merchants telling the customers, who stood with money in their hands, not to buy if they could possibly abstain. An unknown sea, an untried vessel, but a wondrously determined crew. Could it be done?

"Verily it was a problem which time alone could solve. So thought Mr. Cooper. So thought we all.

"Time has come and gone. Then it was theory. Then it was an experiment. Now it is experience. Now it is an actuality.

"In October, '88, our manager went to market with $3,000, the amount of stock paid in at that time. Our stock now amounts to $15,000. Three men did the work then. We now employ eight. One room was then sufficient to hold the "shirt-tail full of goods," as certain people denominated them. We now occupy four large rooms and the adjacent territory for buggies, wagons, etc., with plans on foot for additional space by fall. We buy for cash, we sell for cash, and our manager is under bond. There is no risk, there can be no failure. Those who need money borrow from bank at 12 per cent discount and pay for the time money is used. This money is placed to their credit in the store and they buy from themselves. If there is any profit it goes into the pockets of the farmer. The difference between this interest and the estimated average per cent under the old credit system, i. e. from 75 to 90 per cent, makes the saving for those who borrow. The difference in price of goods sold as cheap as is consistent with safety, and without expectation of dividends, and goods sold for all they would bring irrespective of cost makes the saving to those who use their own money. Make the calculation for yourself.

"Under this plan, with its low price of goods, the business lacked but very little of reaching $100,000, exclusive of trade in guano. And notwithstanding the fact that the net per cent is exceedingly small, the amount of business has turned over the capital stock so often that the accrued profits are astonishingly large. It would not be business-like to anticipate the directors and state the amount; but this I will say, it exceeds any dividends I have seen stated from other alliance enterprises. Several of our largest and wealthiest farmers, convinced as they say, that they can save money through the store, have recently joined and taken stock. The books show that the business for 1890 is something more than 25 per cent above the same time last year. Facts speak for themselves.

"A prominent citizen, a successful business man, one in whom we all have confidence, a non-allianceman, says that the alliance has saved the county $75,000.

"Conclusive evidence that the county is in much better condition than a year ago is found in the fact that, while the business is larger to date, considerably less money has been borrowed. Our leaders have been wise, our men true as steel. The enterprise is here; it is accomplishing more than was hoped for, getting ready to do still better, and has come to stay. So much for the store.

"Others soon saw that we were in earnest. That we did business in a business-like manner, quietly worked together, 'said nothing, but sawed wood.' What is the result, did you say? Why, every allianceman in the county has had the opportunity to purchase his ammoniated guano at $15 per ton laid down in Eatonton. It is made according to White's formula and guaranteed first grade. Has that been beaten?

"But this is not all. It is not even the best.

"You know," said he in a knowing parenthesis, "this is the year and this the time when everybody is interested in the alliance. Some folks especially—alas, not a few—are deeply concerned to know what it is going to do.

"I was in Atlanta about the first of last April and outlined to a friend a movement then organizing in the interest of education among us country folks. As usual, THE CONSTITUTION got hold of it and indorsed it in an editorial.

This, too, was a departure and an experiment. It was to be the joint work of the board of education and the alliance. The board was to divide the county into school districts with reference to population, disregarding old militia districts. Then the alliance was to use its influence and organization to have the old school houses repaired, new ones built, and thus arouse the people to the urgent necessity of educating their children. With a house secured in each district, the public fund would be concentrated there, the numerous small and insufficient schools discarded, competent teachers employed and successful schools established.

"The work was commenced by the appointment of a standing committee on education in the county alliance. This committee arranged for a meeting with each sub-alliance on the same day. The movement thus started was followed by a series extending over several months, and by these means the subject was thoroughly ventilated. As a fitting close to the campaign we brought the county together in an alliance barbecure, with Drs. Candler and Gwaltney to drive home and clinch the nails already started. The people were thus put in possession of the facts in the case.

"They were not flattered, to say the least of it. Something must be done, quoth they, and something was done.

"The alliance took the lead and others joined them, doing their full duty. New windows, new blinds, new stoves, new benches, new desks in the old houses, four brand-new academies, substantial, comfortable and pretty, tell the story. Then followed the election of trustees in every district save one, and then we were ready for work.

"January, 1890, opened up a new era for us. Every district in the county save one, with an eight to ten months school, within reach of every white child. Three-fourths of the principals are graduates, and nearly every teacher in the county is paid a salary, for which the trustees are responsible. The tuition ranges from $1.25 to $2 per month, and at one or two of the largest schools it has been paid for the entire time at the opening session. Remember, this is the private term, among poor people. The sub-alliances have opened their treasuries and are paying the tuition of a number of pupils; individuals are doing the same for others, and parents are sacrificed that their children may go to school. There are now twice as many children in better schools than at any time within the last twenty years a this season. When the public term begins the result of the work in its fulness will be seen. We are hoping and working for the day when public opinion in Putnam will be so educated as that every parent will be ashamed to keep his children from school. This is the last enterprise undertaken by the alliance. As to its success let the facts speak for themselves.

"A meeting is to be held in about two weeks to organize on educational association. It will be composed of the board of education, alliance educational committee, and the trustees and teachers of all the schools. Its object will be to discuss every phase of the educational interest in a plain and practical manner.

"Such has been the work of the alliance in Putnam. We are proud of the results because we are reaping the rich harvest. This end has been reached by rigid adherence to a policy early determined upon and successfully maintained, i. e, exclusion of politics from the order and the development of those interests which would result in immediate and lasting benefits.

"In thus outlining the enterprises and their outcome I have dealt in facts pure and simple. Every statement can be verified.

"If any other county has surpassed us in real, 'long-run' good we bid them 'God speed.' If any other county is behind us they are more than welcome to the value of our experience."

A NEW HOTEL FOR MARIETTA.

The Movement Proves Entirely Satisfactory —The Site Selected.

MARIETTA, April 8.—[Special.]—For several days quite a number of prominent citizens have been industriously at work talking and advocating the very great importance of Marietta having a No. 1 hotel. Something double the size of the famous Whitlock house that was destroyed by fire about a year ago. A few days ago a meeting was held and a committee appointed to canvass the town for subscriptions. The committee have been successful beyond their expectations, enough has been subscribed to guarantee the hotel as contemplated, and at a very enthusiastic meeting of a large number of enterprising citizens today at the city council chamber, steps were taken to procure a charter at once and also a location for the building, as it is the desire of the people to start work on this much needed enterprise at once, in order that it may be ready for the northern tourist next winter.

WILL INVITE THE SEVENTH

To Take Part in the Unveiling of the Lee Statue.

RICHMOND, Va., April 8.—[Special.]—At a meeting tonight, a committee of about twenty-five, composed of representatives from the Lee Monument association, Lee Confederate Veterans, and the local military, a resolution was adopted to extend an invitation to the Seventh regiment of New York to be present here and take part in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the R. E. Lee statue, on May 29th. Some days ago, some well known southern residents in New York expressed a desire that an invitation should be extended to the Seventh to be present on this occasion.

After some discussion, in which opposition was expressed by some friend present, it was agreed by largely more than a majority of the committee that the invitation should be extended to the crack New York regiment. Those who opposed it did so only because they considered that the event was strictly a southern one.

The episode which occurred here at the unveiling of the Picket monument in October, 1888, when some of the members of the Philadelphia brigade refused to march in line because a confederate flag was displayed, was possibly recalled by those who tonight opposed inviting the Seventh to take part in the unveiling of the statue of the great confedrate leader.

The Finding Approved

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The secretary of the navy has approved the record of the proceedings and findings in the case of Commander Joseph B. Coglan, recently tried by court-martial at San Francisco on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman and of conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline. His offence consisted of writing and causing to be published in a California newspaper an article condemning and abusing in unmeasured terms the present administration of naval affairs. When arraigned he pleaded not guilty and the editor of the paper in which the article was published refused to appear before the court; so it was found impossible to sustain the charges, and the court found a verdict of not guilty. The approval of findings by the navy department disposes of the case so far as the present charges are concerned. The result of this case has determined the naval authorities to make a strong effort to secure legislation conferring upon naval courts-martial the same power to compel the attendance of civilian witnesses as is now vested in army courts-martial.

Miss Katie Putnam.

Next Friday this favorite little actress will give us for the first time her new play. "Honor Bound," in which she sustains her well-earned reputation of a sprightly, and at the same time, sympathetic artist. As we said before, Miss Katie is just returned from a tour to the antipodes, and on the way she played at Honolulu, where there is quite a colony of English-speaking people, and the Daily Bulletin of last October 22d, thus chronicled the event:

"Katie Putnam, the well known American actress, opened a three nights engagement at the opera house last night' under the patronage and in the presence of Kalakaua I., king of Hawaii, and the Prince and Princess of Bourbon. Every seat and available inch of standing room was taken. The boxes were handsomely decorated in honor of the king, and beautiful satin programmes were handed to the ladies. It was an audience that must have delighted Miss Putnam, and in return she more than met the expectations of those who had gone prepared to see something fine, and it is safe to say that a better pleased audience never assembled inside the walls of the opera house. From the moment Miss Putnam made her appearence on the stage, it was a settled fact that she would establish herself in the good wishes of the large audience present. The charming little American is a bright, vivacious actress, with tender touches of womanly nature. Her acting is enthusiastic, genius-like and carries with it a power to control an audience. It is pleasant to record that the people of Honolulu have fully indorsed the enviable verdict recently pronounced by the Australian press and public."

IDEAL BROILING.

Broiling can be done in the oven of the Charter Oak Range or Stove with the Wire Gauze Oven Door, more perfectly than over the live coals.

Lay the steak, chops, ham or fish on a wire broiler or meat rack, placing it in an ordinary bake pan to catch the drippings.

Allow it to remain in the oven with the door closed 15 or 20 minutes. No turning is required. At the end of this time it will be found nicely cooked ready to serve. THIS IS THE IDEAL WAY TO BROIL MEATS.

There is no taint of coal-gas or smoke, and the meats are more tender and better in flavor than those broiled over the coals. The convenience or broiling in the oven will be appreciated by every house-keeper, and adds another to the many reasons why the Charter Oak Range or Stove with the Wire Gauze Oven Door should be preferred to all others now in the market.

THE STOCK MARKET.

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The stock market today again demonstrated that stocks are in strong hands, and that owners intend to hold them for materially higher figures than are now ruling. There was more business done, but increased trading was entirely for account of the board-room traders, who were supporting for small profits; and the fact that stocks do not come out under conditions which have always been attended by declines, shows conclusively that securities are not held in the street on margins. Union Pacific was the stock which received the most attention, and it was quite active at advancing prices. Trading in the stock ran up to over 28,000 shares, but its extreme fluctuation was only seven-eighths of one per cent, and Missouri Pacific came next in importance, and it showed positive weakness in the last hour on the action of the committee on securities in striking from the list some Iron Mountain stock which is owned by the Missouri Pacific, and the affair was made the basis for a sharp attack, which resulted in a net decline of seven-eighteenths per cent for the stock. Pacific Mail opened down on report that there was less disposition among congressmen to vote on the subsidy bill, and also on the fact that the bill will not be so much to the advantage of the steamship lines as to the American shipping in general. Manhattan is the only stock showing a material change today. Sugar refineries was not so active today, but there was a mild manipulation of its prices which carried it up to 85, but it could not be held there and it finally closed at a slight loss for the day. The market rallied slightly toward the close, which was dull and steady—at a small fraction under last night's figures. Sales 104,297 listed, and 12,167 unlisted.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, April 9—[Special.]—Greatly to the surprise of the trade the foreign market failed to show the strength which had been anticipated, and in consequence there was, on the opening call of our exchange, considerable pressure to sell, which depressed prices 3@4 points. The offerings were, however, absorbed, and a slight rally followed with great inactivity but marked steadiness during the entire day. But for the bidding of a prominent exporting house the market would probably not held to the prices ruling, but this, with the stoppage of a few April notices, which were circulating early in the day, prevented a decline. Fluctuations were small, the inside months showing the greater improvement from the opening. Liverpool reports spots steady with sales of 8,000 bales American, and futures, which opened easy at 1-64d advance, lost the gain and one point additional, closing dull. Our market shows much steadiness, as referred to above, but there is temporarily an indisposition to operate, and, while waiting for some stimulus in either direction, traders are pursuing a halting policy. New Orleans receipts for tomorrow are estimated at 1,000 bales.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, April 9—Wheat was active and higher. The feeling was considerably unsettled and at times quite excited. A prominet local trader, who has been identified with long side, sold fairly, some placing the quantity at 2,000,000 bushels. The market opened about ⅛c lower than yesterday's closing, sold off ⅛@¼c more, then commenced to rally, advancing 1⅞c for May, 2⅛c for June and 2c for July, ruled quite firm and the closing was 1⅝c higher for May, 1⅝c higher for June and 1¾c higher for July than the closing yesterday. One of the principal factors in the market today was the Michigan crop report, which estimated the condition of the tier of top counties at 65, 70 and 76 per cent, or the lowest ever recorded. There was a good deal of buying in anticipation of the government report tomorrow making an unfavorable showing.

Corn—A large business was transacted, and the feeling on the whole was stronger. A very active demand for May and July, more particularly the latter month, and offerings moderate and readily absorbed. The firm tone of wheat and falling off in the movement were the chief influences in values. The market opened active and a shade higher than yesterday's closing, eased off a little, became active and stronger and gradually sold up ⅞@1⅛c, reacted some and closed ¾@⅞c better than yesterday.

Oats—There was an enlarged business at a higher range. The supply of outside buying orders was larger than has been noted for months. There was a decidedly strong feeling for futures, and prices advanced ¾@1c, and at the advance prices were well maintained.

Mess pork—Quite a good business was reported, but the feeling was somewhat unsettled. The opening sales were at 2½c advance, and this was followed with another improvement of 2½@5c. After orders were provided for prices receded 7½@10c, rallied 2½@5c and the market closed comparatively steady.

Short rib sides—Trading was quite active, and the feeling was firmer. Prices advanced 5@7½c and the market closed strong at outside figures.

MADDOX, RUCKER & CO.,
BANKERS,
Having added $50,000 to our banking property, we are now arranging to move our office on the corner of our block, where we will be in a more prominent position, with better facilities, and we now propose to give more attention to the banking department of our business.
We solicit the accounts of banks, merchants and individuals, and will extend every accommodation consistent with sound banking.
Will negotiate loans on marketable securities.
Allow interests on time deposits.
Having repeated requests, from various sources, to buy and sell stocks and bonds, we have concluded to deal generally in miscellaneous securities.
Will buy and sell on commission, state, municipal and railroad bonds, and all kinds of stocks.
We can place first-class investment securities to advantage, and we invite proposals from cities and counties, when issuing bonds.
We do a general banking business and invite correspondence.
